HOUSE COMMITTEE CONSIDERS BOULDER DAM!

Local Den Of Lions Receives Charter Tonight!

CLEAR DECKS FOR RECESS SATURDAY

Assembly Ready to Leave on Time; Will Reconvene February 24

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service
Special to The Evening News.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—With the budget hearings concluded by the joint committees of the Senate and Assembly, and means committees there is every reason to believe the preliminary session of the forty-sixth California Legislature will recess Saturday for one month, reconvening February 24.

Predictions of a short and snappy session are coming true with less than 1000 bills in prospect by Saturday. In the last half each member is limited to two new bills making a grand total of not more than 1200, in round figures.

Speaker Frank Merriam, viewing the situation from his vantage point, says there is no reason why this should not be one of the shortest and most business-like sessions in history. And while there are many issues to be threshed out in committee, the personnel of both the Senate and Assembly is above average. Also, they are going to avoid trouble until trouble comes.

Lay Over Bills
In the Senate Judiciary committee yesterday, when several bills sponsored by the city of Los Angeles and introduced in part by Senator Harry Chamberlain, were given consideration, a labor lobby fighting the state constabulary measure caused him to ask that the bills be laid over until next session.

ALICE LONGWORTH REACHES CHICAGO

Daughter of Roosevelt Will Await Birth of Child Early Next Month

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Smiling the Roosevelt smile, Alice Longworth arrived in Chicago today to keep her rendezvous with the work, tentatively set for early February at the Chicago Lying-in hospital.

"I am feeling fine," said the daughter of Theodore Roosevelt as she stepped from the Capitol Limited, accompanied by a physician. "But as for interviews—I never give interviews."

Mrs. Longworth said her husband would arrive and would remain until they could return to Washington together.

The Longworths have been married nineteen years but the expected child will be their first.

MAN STAGGERS FROM HOME AFTER SHOT

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—Wounded by two bullets through the head, which his wife claims were self-inflicted, John C. Thomas, 32, reeled out of his home on South Norton street today, staggered two blocks and collapsed in a dying condition on the doorstep of a residence on South Wilton street.

HARBOR COMMISSION VACANCIES FILLED

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—Governor Richardson today named B. S. Cooper and William B. Gross of San Diego to two vacancies on the San Diego state board of harbor commissioners.

STEEL STOCK REACHES NEW HIGH LEVEL

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—United States Steel common orders for "steel" surged into the market from all directions for "steel" surged into the market from all directions and trading in the stock was unusually heavy. This is the highest price at which the stock had sold since 1917, when the record high price of 136 5-8 was established. Last year the stock sold at 94 1-4 and in the bear market of 1921 it declined to 70 1-4. In 1904 its low price was 8 3-8. A block of 100,000 shares was sold to the employees of the corporation this week at 125.

GLENDALE CUBS TO ROAR AT GATHERING

Oakmont Country Club To Be Scene of Feeding the Animals; Guests From All Over Southland to Attend

Lions from all over Southern California will gather tonight at the Oakmont Country club, to roar their greeting to the Glendale den, youngest of the thirty clubs in the Fourth district. It is "Charter Night," in short, and the precious parchment, bearing the signature of International President Harry A. Newman and adorned with the great purple and gold seal of International Association of Lions clubs, will be presented to President W. B. Kelly of the local den by Jack Riley of Los Angeles, deputy district governor.

President Clifford A. Williams of the Pasadena den, sponsoring body, will preside over the meeting and dispense gaiety under the title of toastmaster. There will be fully 300 Lions, Lionesses and friends present.

Elaborate Program
Mayor Spencer Robinson of Glendale will offer the greetings of the city to the "debutante" at her "coming out" party. Welcome on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce will be extended by D. H. Smith, president. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery will bring the good wishes of the Tuesday afternoon club, of which she is president.

"Feeding the animals," as a banquet is called in Lionism, will be an occasion of much hilarity. There will be beautiful decorations of Scotch heather and marigolds, emphasizing the Lion colors, and each Lion and Lioness will wear their lapel buttons, bearing their names and nicknames.

Souvenir Booklet
At each table place will be an elaborate souvenir program, a combination of the menu and the first issue of the Glendale, official publication of the local den, edited under the direction of W. S. Ingram, with A. R. Holland and Paul P. Scoles as associate editors.

During the progress of the banquet, telegrams of greeting will be read from many high officials.

Helpless Schooner Is Sighted Off Norway

OSLO, Norway, Jan. 22.—A story of privation and great suffering was revealed today when the Norwegian schooner Karen was discovered off the west coast of Norway. Its sails and rigging were gone, and it had been drifting helplessly at the mercy of the gales since December 27. The schooner was alive, but in an exhausted and a starving condition. The schooner was en route to Faroe islands in the North Atlantic.

Residents Expressing Choice For Councilmen; List Continues to Grow

Residents of Glendale are taking an active interest in the nomination of their candidates for councilmen and the list of nominees suggested for the five vacancies which will occur this spring, continues to grow by leaps and bounds. From the councilmanic timber suggested by the residents of Glendale through The Glendale Evening News, it appears certain many of these names will appear on the ballot in April.

One citizen, in sending the name of Stephen W. Huntington, 201 Kenneth road, gives his qualifications in the following letter:

"I am sending in my vote to nominate Stephen W. Huntington for the reason that he is an experienced business man and in addition is an experienced councilman.

"He was elected to the City Council of New Rochelle, N. Y., and after serving his term, he was re-elected, following which he was again elected to serve a third term at which time he was made vice-president of the City Council.

"With the experience he has had, combined with the fact that he has retired and is able to give the time to city problems, I am confident that he would be a real asset to the city."

HELP FIRE LADDIES GET RADIO OUTFIT!

Subscriptions Being Received Through The Glendale Evening News; Firemen Will Appreciate Your Good Deed

Subscription To Radio Fund For Fire Department Employees

I will give the sum of $..... to the fund being raised through The Glendale Evening News for the purpose of buying a radio outfit for the employees of the Glendale fire department.

NAME

ADDRESS

Tear out and mail to The Glendale Evening News, 139 South Brand, Glendale.

Following the announcement in The Glendale Evening News yesterday that this newspaper would receive subscriptions to a fund for the purpose of purchasing a radio for the employees of the Glendale fire department, several persons visited the office at 139 South Brand and signed the list and others acted today. The radio will be purchased by a committee composed of the heads of the various service clubs.

The Glendale Evening News will tomorrow publish the names of those who are subscribing to the fund and the list will appear in this newspaper from day to day. The publisher of this newspaper started the fund with a subscription of $10.

Started by Reader
The suggestion that a radio be provided for the fire department boys was first made in a communication to the publisher of The Glendale Evening News. The writer asked that his name be not published. His communication follows:

"I believe you are the one that everyone calls to help in every emergency or philanthropic work, so I thought perhaps you would be interested in helping to get a radio set for the fire station, thus not waiting for the boys to lose their lives before showing appreciation of their services in protecting our homes. About two months ago a fireman got his hand badly burned and blood poison set in, and he had a very serious and painful time. As some of the men have to be on duty every Sunday, it would be a fine thing if

Teachers Told Of Deficit In Pension Fund

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—Charging that the California teachers' retirement salary fund is "from an actuarial standpoint insolvent to the extent of $30,000,000," Governor Richardson sent a special message to the Legislature warning that "when the crash comes" teachers who have been paying into the fund "will receive nothing whatever in return."

The governor's message was in contradiction of a statement made public yesterday by the legislative committee of the California Teachers' association, and the State Association of County and City School Superintendents, denying reports that the fund was unsound.

Diploma 'Mills' Doomed By Senator's Measure

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—Professional diploma "mills" will be barred from California under an educational commission bill introduced today in the Senate by Senator Herbert W. Slater of Santa Rosa.

Assembly Passes Hoof And Mouth Relief Bill

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—The agricultural emergency measure appropriating $297,000 to pay for the ravages caused by the foot and mouth disease, was passed today by the Assembly.

Twelve on Trial

William F. Griffin of Jersey City, alleged leader of the bootlegging "ring," Harry J. Stearns, councilman and chairman of the police committee of Weehawken; Captain Charles McNamee of the Hudson county boulevard police; two police lieutenants and seven patrolmen.

When the foreman said the jurors were "hopelessly disagreed," the judge said: "Under the circumstances and in view of your sincerity, I am compelled to discharge you from service during the balance of the term of this court."

It was understood that the jury stood 9 to 3 for conviction when dismissed. The defendants in the main seemed to accept the disagreement as they would a verdict of acquittal.

JAPAN WILL DROP FIGHT ON QUOTA

Discussion on U.S. Exclusion Clause Frowned on by Foreign Minister

TOKIO, Jan. 22.—Japan does not intend, for the present at least, to continue any discussions with the United States concerning the Japanese exclusion clause of the new immigration law, Foreign Minister Shidehara informed the diet today. Emphasizing that Japanese-American relations are very cordial, he said, "no good purpose would be served by keeping alive the immigration discussions."

An aftermath of the recent anti-Brazilian agitation in Japan, because of the great South American nation's refusal to admit Japan beyond a certain restricted quota, broke here today when it was learned that the Brazilian consul refused to approve the passports of 600 Japanese citizens scheduled to leave for Brazil.

Aged Woman Inmate of Rest Home Hangs Self

FAIL TO GIVE VERDICT IN RUM CASE

Discharge Trial Jurors In New Jersey; Senator Is Unafraid, He Says

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Senator Edward I. Edwards, Democrat of New Jersey, whose name was linked to activities of the New Jersey rum ring, today declared he did not "fear" an indictment by federal authorities based on testimony given at the Weehawken liquor trial.

Edwards said the case was "closed" as far as he was concerned and that he did not expect to appear as a witness in any phase of the government's liquor investigation.

By DAVID SENTNER

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 22.—Judge Charles M. Egan today dismissed the jury in the Hudson county liquor cases who heard the evidence in the case of ten policemen and two civilians, when the jury reported at 10 o'clock this morning that it was hopelessly divided. The jurors had been out since 3:07 yesterday afternoon.

"Gentlemen, have you reached a verdict?" the judge asked. Henry A. Laurensen, the foreman, replied: "I am sorry to say judge, we have not—we were unable to reach a verdict."

The men on trial charged with conspiracy to frustrate justice were:

Talk Without Radio Visioned By Sir Oliver

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The day is coming when mental communication will be possible without the aid of mechanical intervention, it was predicted today by Sir Oliver Lodge.

Lodge made his statement in addressing the radio society of Great Britain, of which body he is president. Vision, Lodge declared, is actually electrical radio action. He suggested that atoms throw off electrons which stimulate the nerves of the eyes, causing vision.

ROUT BANDIT AT JEFFERSON CITY

State Representative Puts Up Fight In Capitol; Slightly Wounded

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 22.—Representative Fred Frey, 71, was slightly wounded today when he routed a bandit in the state capital just before the House convened.

The bandit shoved a gun in Frey's face and demanded that he throw up his hands.

Despite his age, Frey grabbed the gun and scuffled with the highwayman.

Richardson Silent on Report From Highways

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—In submitting to the Legislature today the report of his special highway investigating committee, Governor Richardson failed to indicate in any way whether he approved or disapproved of recommendations of the committee.

"This committee spent several months in careful and thorough investigation and has visited every county in the state," said the governor's message of transmittal. "It has been absolutely free to use its own judgment and to come to its own conclusions."

"I am submitting the preliminary report without comment, for your consideration."

Recommendations for extension of the highway system include: Oxnard to the main coast highway, two miles; San Diego to Tia Juana, seven miles.

Recommendation is made in the report that the convict labor camps be expanded or increased in number to use at least 1000 prisoners in highway work.

The report was signed by eight of the nine men named by the governor to draw up the highway recommendations, E. E. East of Glendale having refused to concur in the report.

Italy Seeks Treaty With Baltic States

ROME, Jan. 22.—With the treaty governing commerce and navigation with Finland, and the customs agreement with Czechoslovakia ratified this week, negotiations were under way today with the Baltic states for the completion of an obligatory arbitration treaty. The new pact, it is believed, will help create special good will between Italy and the Balkan states.

SWING BILL IS TEMPORARILY PUT ASIDE AT PROBE

Utah Congressman's Measure Will Be Taken Up For Extended Hearings

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The Johnson-Swing bill for development of the Colorado river irrigation project was laid aside today by the House irrigation committee and extended hearings ordered on a similar measure by Representative Leatherwood, Democrat, of Utah.

Both Senator Johnson and Congressman Swing interpreted the committee's action as "favorable," explaining it as the "first step in clearing away obstacles" to the enactment of the Boulder dam legislation.

Congressional resentment over the conduct of America's foreign affairs by "unofficial observers" broke out in the House today and there was vigorous criticism of the agreement negotiated at Paris whereby the United States agrees to accept 2 1/4 per cent of the Daves reparations payment in lieu of her war claims.

"I condemn this key-hole representation and official eavesdropping by official Americans," said Representative Tom Connolly, Democrat of Texas. "I object to their binding this country by signatures to formal documents. It is dangerous to the extreme."

FIREPROOF HOME CITED ESSENTIAL

Contractors Look Forward To Eliminating Chance Of Destruction

With the immense number of homes that must be built in the next few years to take care of the million poorly housed families, contractors, architects and house owners will have a splendid chance to co-operate in building homes that will not fall prey to fire. The annual fire losses of dwellings alone run into unbelievable figures.

Attention has been paid in the past to guarding schools, theatres and factories against fire, public opinion having been crystallized by spectacular disasters, but the danger of loss of life by fire in dwellings is a grave one, as witness the most recent catastrophe at Berkeley, Calif. For practically one-third of each day occupants of a dwelling are asleep and unprotected. A dwelling easily be built to protect its occupants against fire by using as far as possible non-combustible building materials.

It is possible to build homes so they will not burn. The walls, roofs and partitions may be constructed of material that will not burn, and in the last analysis, there is no better or cheaper insurance. The roof may be made of tile or other mineral or stone material, while the walls may be built in any number of ways. Concrete construction throughout is being employed in many of the new homes that are to be built. Walls, floors, gables, partitions and other structural parts are easily made of concrete and constitute as fireproof a dwelling as it is possible to build.

Necessary Evils

The furnishings of a home will always be more or less a fire hazard. Curtains, drapes and other household accessories are easily set ablaze. The human element also enters the situation. Some people will be careless with fire. A careless person may not only burn his own house but neighboring houses may be burned or at least damaged by the heat and flying sparks.

In case some of the furnishings of the house should catch fire, a fireproof house localizes the damage and keeps the fire from spreading. By closing the doors and windows, the flame is soon smothered and other rooms are not damaged. The arrival of the fire department is not so important as where frame buildings are on fire, and in most instances a bucket brigade formed by the family or neighbors is sufficient to extinguish the blaze. Where floors are made of concrete, the damage is always less than where wood floors are used, for the water damage usually exceeds the fire damage, unless the building is near a total loss.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—Ways and means of bringing the cost of mail delivery in Los Angeles down to the average cost in the rest of the country will be considered soon at a conference of local post office officials to be called by a representative of Postmaster-General Now, who is expected to arrive in Los Angeles within the next two weeks. Reports issued by the postal department show the cost of mail distribution in Los Angeles to be from 14 to 26 per cent higher than the average cost of distribution throughout the United States. The fact that there are 70,000 changes of addresses each month is partly responsible for the high cost of distribution.

Defeated by a vote of 1220 to 195, the city manager form of government was overwhelmingly rejected by the City of Whittier. The manager feature of the charter was made the principal issue by the opposition, many of the city officials taking a leading part. It is understood that a movement will be started to have another charter started without the manager plan.

VACCINATION REQUIRED
BANNING, Jan. 22.—School boards of education here have complied with the order of the city health department and the City Trustees in ordering all children vaccinated. If any have not had this done by January 19 they will be barred from school if the epidemic and quarantine still continue. So far the small-pox cases seem well under control and the city has established a hospital in Mexican town, where the disease is confined.

PLAN WATER MERGER
SAN JACINTO, Jan. 22.—Consolidation of the Fruitvale Water Co. of San Jacinto and the Lake Hemet Water Co. is assured by action of the directors of the Fruitvale company. A resolution was unanimously adopted favoring the project. The new consolidation would permit opening of new sources of supply, with a resulting increase in irrigation water.

CHINESE TO CELEBRATE
SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 22.—Firecrackers will pop in Santa Barbara this month, with the Fourth of July still six months away. The Chinese New Year, which has been celebrated for centuries by the use of pyrotechnics, will open January 25, and the local Oriental colony will observe it in the ancient fashion. A permit for the use of firecrackers by Chinese only was granted by the City Council, at the request of the Chinese Merchants' association. The carnival will extend through several days.

WOULD BAN B-B GUNS
SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 22.—The B-B gun, time-honored weapon of boys, will become extinct in Santa Barbara if a request from the humane society to the City Council is favorably acted upon. Charging that birds protected by law are being slaughtered by youths armed with airguns and slingshots, the society has asked that the use of these weapons be prohibited in the city. The communication was ordered filed.

CHAMBER FAVORS PROJECT
SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 22.—The board of directors of the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution endorsing the proposed consolidation of San Bernardino and Colton. The resolution declares many advantages will follow to citizens of both cities.

PROTEST OVER BAND
SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 22.—Refusal of the San Bernardino Elks' band to play at the fifteenth national orange show because of the engagement of the Santa Monica municipal band, a non-union organization, has culminated with the announcement that the central labor council of San Bernardino has taken up the affair. A special committee of the council has requested an interview with the executive committee of the orange show to discuss the matter.

ROAD OFFICIAL FINED
SANTA ANA, Jan. 22.—W. T. Lamb of Tustin, assistant construction engineer with the State Highway commission, paid a fine of $25 in Justice K. E. Morrison's court where he was found guilty of speeding. Motorcycle Officer Warner appeared against Lamb who denied the officer's claim that he was travelling at a rate of forty-four miles an hour. Lamb admitted, however, that he was driving in excess of thirty-eight miles an hour.

BIG PIER PLANNED
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 22.—A group of San Francisco financiers, represented by A. C. Rush, an engineer, is ready to erect at Huntington Beach a horseshoe pier costing $1,000,000. It has been announced by Secretary J. A. Armitage of the Chamber of Commerce. Rush wants a group of citizens to aid him in obtaining approaches to the pier, however. Plans for the structure are complete and have been submitted to the chamber of commerce for approval. It would extend 1600 feet into the ocean with 1000 feet between approaches.

MENTALLY UNFIT HIT BY PHYSICIAN

Infant Mortality Rates In State High Because Of This, Claim

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—Infant mortality rates in California will continue at a comparatively high ratio so long as the mentally and constitutionally unfit are permitted to reproduce their kind, according to Dr. Walter M. Dickie, secretary of the State Board of Health.

"Until such time as we may be able to control the growth of our population, infants will continue to die from congenital causes," commented the physician, adding that "we can do little to reduce these cases. It is a problem of eugenics."

In recent years one-half of infant deaths may be attributed to congenital debility, malformation, premature birth, venereal diseases and injury at birth, which causes, in the ultimate, are the consequences of unfit mating, it was said.

While the increased shifting of country population to city districts has tended to reduce the infant mortality rate, the influx of immigrants in the rural areas, where there is no provision for care of either mother or child, tends to maintain the average.

Children of foreign-born mothers show a much higher death rate than those born of American parents, said Dr. Dickie.

MAKE 'EM WAIT, URGE

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 22.—Change in the present statutes governing marriages in order to make it compulsory upon those taking out marriage licenses to wait two weeks after the issuance of the license until the actual date of marriage is suggested by County Clerk Harry L. Allison as a means of cutting down the number of divorces in California.

ROSES IN CARLOADS
HEMET, Jan. 22.—A carload of roses was shipped from this city to New York by the Howard Rose Co. this week. The car contained approximately 55,000 boxed plants. The roses are famed throughout the world and are in demand especially by the nurserymen of the east. The car will travel by the southern route and will be used to keep the stock in good condition during transit.

NEW EAR 'EASY'
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 22.—Plastic surgery may provide a new ear for C. E. Westenhaver, local clothing merchant, who lost his left auricle in a recent automobile crash. "The process is a very simple one," explained Dr. Ralph E. Hawes of the emergency hospital. "All that is necessary is a small piece of cartilage from the nose, a piece of bone from the leg and a little surplus skin from some part of the anatomy, coupled with surgical skill and his ear will be as good as new."

HIGHWAY IS POPULAR
NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 22.—The new coast boulevard will not be officially opened until next month, but it has been possible to drive over the new highway for several weeks and motorists are rolling over it in an almost continuous procession daily. Sundays they are present in a crowd. Not only is Southern California represented, but the eastern tourist is exploring.

'MEANEST THIEF' AGAIN
SEAL BEACH, Jan. 22.—Penney banks are not beneath the notice of the thief who robbed the Methodist church here. Two banks containing about $6 in small coins are missing. A saxophone was taken also.

NEW OIL FIELD
SANTA ANA, Jan. 22.—The Greenville district, six miles southwest of Santa Ana, has become a prospect for oil field with the knowledge that the Standard Oil company has representatives in the field tendering landowners what is said to be an attractive lease offer. As near as can be learned the center of the attempt at leasing is in the vicinity of the R. L. Tedford and Lawrence W. Beckham properties. The intersection is the location of the Greenville school house.

BOARD IS DEADLOCKED
SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 22.—The advisory committee of the Board of Supervisors continued action on the selection of a site for the new courthouse after, with nine members of the board voting, it was reported to be practically deadlocked, although said to favor the Arrowhead avenue and Third street site in San Bernardino. Four votes were given the Ralph Acres site offered by the city of Colton. The matter was continued for a week.

FIRE FIGHTING AID
SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 22.—Fighting of forest fires in the San Bernardino mountains will be supervised from San Bernardino during future conflagrations as result of the expected division of the Angeles national forest and the establishment of a separate reserve in this county with San Bernardino as the headquarters.

ISLE REPORT ARGUMENT
SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 22.—The first argument over the report of the referees in the partitioning of Santa Cruz island is due to be heard in the superior court within the next few days. The report, filed three weeks ago, assigns the extreme easterly portion of the island to Mrs. Aglae Capuccio and Edmund Rossi.

BRIDGE PLANS CALL FOR 3 BIG SPANS

Joint Meeting of Civic Bodies
To Ask $1,200,000 Bond
Issue in May

One-million two-hundred thousand dollars for construction of three bridges to connect major highways of the San Fernando valley with main arteries of travel in Los Angeles, will be sought through Los Angeles city and county bond issues at the May election, if recommendations made at a joint meeting of civic representatives and city and county officials last night, are carried out.

The meeting took place at the Hollywood Athletic club, with dinner at 6:30 o'clock. Cities from the ocean to the desert, lying along the main east-west highways, were represented. A. J. Barnes of the Los Angeles Planning commission presided.

Under the plan adopted, three bridges, one at Fletcher drive and the other two across the river in the vicinity of Glendale and Hyperion boulevards, will be projected. The Fletcher drive bridge, it was estimated, will cost $300,000, and will afford a crossing over the river to the leading into Glendale boulevard near the Tom Mix studio.

Double Glendale Bridge
A double bridge project at the Glendale boulevard crossing, one arm connecting with Hyperion boulevard on the west bank of the river and the second turning south and passing under the Pacific Electric trestle, was also proposed. Such a project will cost in the neighborhood of $900,000, it was stated. It would give adequate outlet to traffic across the river both entering and leaving the San Fernando valley on this side of the river, speakers said, and would be the completing link in a straight line of highway from Santa Monica on the ocean front to San Bernardino on the edge of the desert.

Glendale Banker Guest At Valley Club Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nelson of 641 East Harvard street were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hatperscheid at the monthly meeting and banquet of the San Fernando Valley Bankers' association, held last night at the Encino Country club. Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Hatperscheid are sisters. Mr. Hatperscheid is vice-president of the Bank of Van Nuys, and was elected president of the association at the meeting last night. Sixty-five members of the association from San Fernando, Burbank, Van Nuys, Lancaster, Owensmouth, and Glendale were present. A musical program was presented, and Secretary Arnold of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce gave the main address of the evening. Wives of association members were guests at the banquet, and they were called upon to tell about the city in which they lived, and Mrs. Nelson told of Glendale. Mr. Nelson is manager of the Glendale avenue branch, Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank.

Ku Klux Klan to Give Dance Saturday Night

A balloon dance will be given Saturday night, January 24, at the Odd Fellows' hall, 201-A West Broadway, under the auspices of the Ku Klux Klan, Provisional No. 1. Music will be furnished for dancing by Biddlecom's six-piece orchestra. A prize waltz and other features have been announced by the committee with refreshments served later. The public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Mabel Moore to Conduct New Classes

Mrs. Mabel Moore, leader of the Glendale Success club, is starting a series of four lessons in the science of prosperity at her home, 333 West Lexington drive, on Friday night, January 23. The classes are devoted to a study and application of the principles of the prosperous life and Mrs. Moore considers in detail the personal problems of all members. Classes are open to the public.

Personal service, including domestic service, is the occupation that occupies the greatest number of persons in England and Wales, according to a government census of occupations recently issued.

FOUNDING OF TWO COURTS IN ORDER TOLD AT MEET

P. E. O. Members Assemble
At Oakmont Country
Club for Anniversary

Oakmont Country club provided an artistic setting yesterday for a celebration by Glendale P. E. O. chapters of founders' day. Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock in the grill room by the P. E. O. reciprocity bureau.

Seated at the honor table were Mrs. Anna Danielson, first vice-president of the bureau and president of Chapter DJ, who presided at the meeting; Mrs. Patience Beatty, first vice-president of the supreme chapter; Mrs. Faith Storey, of Burbank, first vice-president of the state chapter; Mrs. LaBelle Townsend, second vice-president of the state chapter; Mrs. Pamela Hord, of Pasadena, treasurer of the state chapter; Mrs. Mae Emery, president of Chapter L; Mrs. Edith Smith, president of Chapter AH; Mrs. Josephine Brant, president of Chapter BA; Mrs. Vevia Onstott, president of Chapter CJ.

The table at which the guests and officers were seated was decorated with baskets of white sweetpeas and yellow mums. Seven candles on the table represented the seven founders of the P. E. O., two of whom are still living. Seated at other tables in the room were the members of Glendale P. E. O. chapters and eight unaffiliated members of other chapters. Bowls of mums decorated the tables and placecards naming the various Glendale chapters were found at each place. Covers were laid for ninety-five P. E. O. members.

Address of Welcome
Mrs. Danielson gave an address of welcome stating the P. E. O. was founded on January 21, 1869, at Wesleyan college, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. Seven women formed the organization, two of whom are still living. They are Mrs. Alice Bird Bab, of Aurora, Illinois, and Mrs. Mary Allen Stafford, of Muscatine, Iowa. They were sent greetings from the Glendale P. E.

Frank A. Lowe, H. W. Chase
Are Judges; Describes
Visit to One

By MARTHA FLEMING
Senior, Glendale Union High School,
Civics Class

The city of Glendale contains two courts—the police court located in the City Hall and presided over by Judge Frank H. Lowe; and the township court, presided over by Judge Harry Chase.

The local police court is under the jurisdiction of the City Council. It operates on ordinances of the City Council and laws of the state legislature.

The police court judge, Mr. Lowe, tries all cases coming under the jurisdiction of the local authorities. Such cases include larceny, traffic regulations, drunkenness, forgery, and all other civil and criminal cases.

Township Court

The United States is divided into districts six miles square, called townships. Each township has its own court. Judge Harry Chase presides over the township court which includes Glendale, Burbank, and small outlying districts.

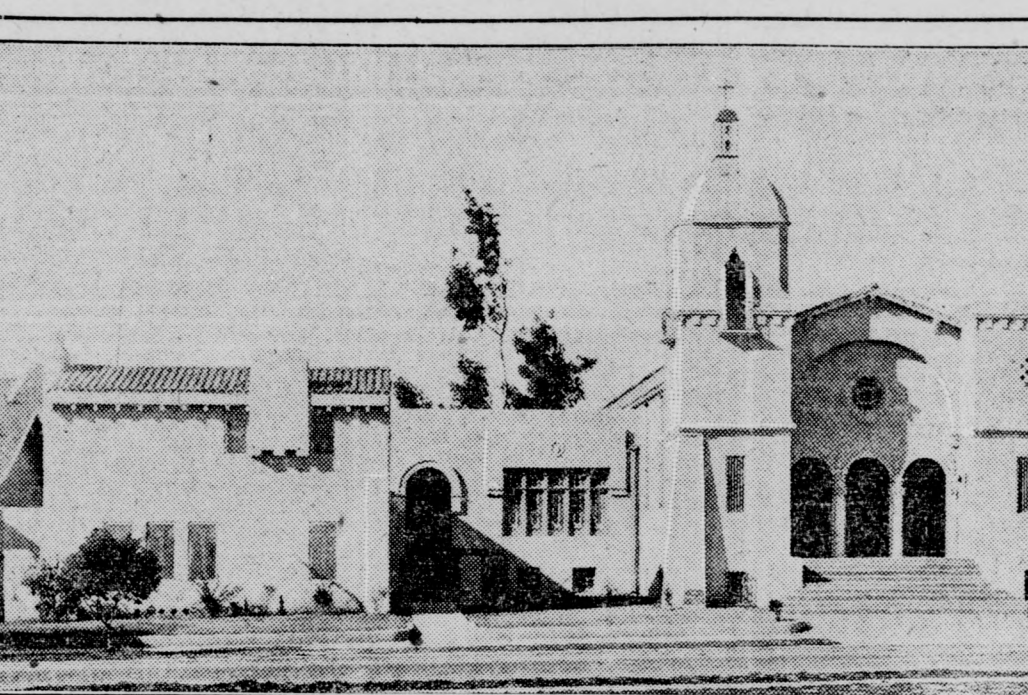

Glendale and Burbank each has its own municipal court, where all cases originating in the city limits are tried. Therefore only the cases originating outside of the city limits of Glendale and Burbank, but still in this township, are tried by Judge Chase. Both courts, however, have practically the same legal standing. Glendale local courts may be best explained by reading from the charter of the city of Glendale. Article VII, Section I, says:

City Charter
"The judicial power of the city shall be vested in a police court which court is hereby established. The police judge shall hold said police court and said court shall have jurisdiction concurrently with the justices' courts, of all actions and proceedings, civil and

Dedicate Church On Sunday

Impressive ceremonies will mark the formal dedication of the First Lutheran church, 231-233 South Kenwood street, to be held Sunday. Dr. H. C. Funk is the pastor of the church, and the new edifice is considered one of the most beautiful structures of its kind in Glendale.

Formal dedication of the First Lutheran church, 231-233 South Kenwood street, will take place Sunday, January 25. Of modified Spanish-Mission type, this church edifice is declared one of the most beautiful church buildings in Glendale. The church group includes a two story parsonage, an auditorium and annex seating 500 people and a modern social hall with banquet rooms in the basement.

Dr. H. C. Funk, pastor of the church, contributed much to the development of the plans, which represented ideals of Christian worship. He has been fortunate in having an efficient body of men on his official board, whose hearty co-operation has made possible the completion of the building project. Much credit for the economical construction of the building must go to the contractors and workmen, the firm of McMackin & Slater having had the general supervision of the work. Of the building Dr. Funk says:

"The buildings are churchly in architectural design, being of a modified Spanish Mission type. They breathe the true spirit of devotion, and appeal to the consecrated ideals of the passion of Christ, the altar bearing the cross, the emblem of our redemption. These solemn rites arouse the hearts to penitence and humiliation as we contemplate the power of divine omnipotence.

"A man is justified by his works; but good works are the fruits of justifying faith, and by their fruits ye shall know them, is the doctrine taught by the great Lutheran church, numbering 30,000,000 members. As a part of this great body the Glendale Mission breathes the sweet spirit of the gospel, giving hope and assurance of salvation to the sin-sick soul. Her spirit of devotion, of true penitence and the confession of humble and contrite hearts, is embodied in her beautiful order of worship."

Dedication services next Sunday will begin with the Bible school at 10 o'clock with P. J. Bowman, superintendent. At 10:45 o'clock there will be solemn dedication services, with address by Rev. C. W. Maggart of Los Angeles. The sermon will be by Rev. George H. Hillerman, Berkeley, general superintendent of missions for the western district. His subject will be "The Glory of the Second Temple." Special music in the morning will be a solo by Mayor Spencer Robinson, and an anthem, "Let Us Go Into the House of the Lord."

In the afternoon there will be a service at 3:30 o'clock. Earl C. Houk, baritone of Los Angeles, will sing "It is Enough" from "The Elijah" (Mendelssohn), and the chorus will give, "How Amiable Are Thy Dwellings." Mr. Houk will then sing "Arise, Shine" (McDermott). Rev. Daniel J. Snyder of Long Beach, president of the synod of California, will preach the dedication sermon.

A fellowship service will be held Tuesday night with Rev. Edward P. Schuler of Pasadena in charge. The address will be given by Rev. H. J. Weaver of Huntington Park, on the subject, "Three Essentials of the Kingdom of God." J. H. Niebank will sing as a solo, "Thanks Be to God." A selection by the chorus will be, "Be Joyful in the Lord." Following the service there will be a social hour in the banquet room.

U. S. Renews Efforts to Prevent Coal Strike

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Renewed efforts to avert the threatened strike of 60,000 anthracite coal miners in the Scranton district of Pennsylvania were made by the department of labor today. Secretary Davis ordered Commissioners of Conciliation Thomas Davis and James F. Dewey to join with mine workers officials and the Pennsylvania state conciliation board in its efforts to bring about a settlement of the differences between the miners and the operators.

Humane Society Meets Tomorrow In Election

Predictions of a year of marked growth have been made for the Glendale Humane society, which is to meet at 8 o'clock Friday night at the city hall on East Broadway to elect officers. During the past year the club has established itself as a permanent organization, and opened its animal shelter, where many unfortunate animals are being cared for.

PLAYERS TAKE LONG STEP FORWARD

Dobinson Stock Actors To Give Best Plays Six
Nights Every Week

Not only will many New York play successes be seen in Glendale prior to their Los Angeles presentation, but a new play every week, running from Monday night to Saturday night inclusive, with a matinee Saturday, is announced as the new policy of the Dobinson Players, commencing with the first week in February.

In other words, this formidable move towards giving Glendale theatre-goers an opportunity to attend a spoken play any week night, will follow immediately upon the termination of the run of "Love Laughs," the comedy which opened last night.

The Playhouse, according to Florence Dobinson, will be, in the future, the scene of the presentation of the very latest and most popular plays. In fact, all Southern California is due to talk about one phase in particular of this Glendale enterprise.

"For," said Mrs. Dobinson today, "I believe we are about to solve one of the major problems confronting the spoken drama—that of making it appeal to the great masses of people. This solution is not our own, as it includes a method of play selection worked out successfully in other American cities of the size of Glendale, a method which is bringing the spoken play to an overwhelming popularity in many places.

No High Brow Plays
"Glendale will open its eyes to the fact that our forthcoming plays—starting with 'Love Laughs,' the current production—are plays with an immense and intimate human appeal. The ingredients of tears, laughter and excitement have been so blended as to bring them very close to the lives of the many.

"I want, here and now, to deny emphatically that the Dobinson Players ever have or ever will attempt the 'high brow' play. We decided to change our policy to a new show every week, and six nights a week, because Glendale has responded with an ever-increasing attendance to new, popular plays. Many of the plays we will present in Glendale will precede their showing in Los Angeles."

Prices at the Playhouse, which is at Central and Lexington, will remain the same—50 cents for the majority of seats with a few at 75 cents. Children at matinees will pay only 25 cents.

SYMPATHY IS LACKING IN HOMELIFE

Parents Backward In Meeting Problems of Children, Speaker Declares

"There has never been a period in our history when boys and girls were more retarded than in the age of our Puritan forefathers," was the arraignment of Puritanical persons and ideals of the past and present by Miss Helen Goodspeed, university extension speaker, who addressed the high school Parent-Teacher association at Broadway High yesterday.

Miss Goodspeed, who has had much training and experience in psychology and social service, made an ardent plea for a more sympathetic understanding of children of the adolescent age by parents.

"Of all American institutions the home has been the most backward in meeting the needs of the modern boy and girl. The Ellington murder case in San Francisco shows that the home does not know how to cope with the problems," she said.

Urges Sympathy In continuing, Miss Goodspeed discussed the characteristics of boys and girls of adolescent age, urging parents to seek sympathetic understanding, give due recognition of ideals of youth and give approving affection.

Mothers of high school pupils had been invited to "go to school" yesterday and over 100 visited the various classes, attended a student assembly and later the P-T. A. meeting. Members of the Girls' league were hostesses.

Mrs. W. R. Wicher, president, was in charge of the P-T. A. meeting, when it was unanimously decided to hold four informal social affairs in the cafeteria of the high school for mothers of the four classes. The associations' new red and black banner was on display and the senior class claimed it for the coming month for having the largest percentage of mothers present. Members attending the association meetings are to wear name cards.

Guests of Girls At the close of the P-T. A. meeting, Mary Jo Phillips, president of the Girls' league, gave greeting and urged the support of the coming bond issues. She introduced Miss Goodspeed.

Lenora Rose, program chairman of the league, announced the remainder of the program. Allie Christensen gave two songs; Marguerite Anderson a reading; Marcia Cleveland an old fashioned dance; and the Girls' league jazz orchestra, selections. Later the mothers were guests of the girls at tea in the home economics department.

ROTARIANS HEAR BOYS' WORK TOPIC

Paul Rieger, of Frisco Tells Luncheon Members to Educate Sons

Members of the Glendale Rotary club heard an inspiring talk this noon by Paul Rieger of San Francisco, member of the Boys' Work committee of Rotary International. It was the regular weekly luncheon gathering of the club, held at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, President J. Herbert Smith, presiding.

"Think what it would mean to know that you had been instrumental in starting Thomas Edison or Benjamin Franklin on his course," said Mr. Rieger. "Some men had that opportunity, and each of you today, here in Glendale and these surrounding points, has a similar opportunity to impart to some boy something you have learned in the years of your experience."

"You can pass on wealth to your heirs, when you go, men," he said, "but you can't pass on your brain, except to your own children. Seize the opportunity while you are still living, to be of service to the youth of today, the rulers of the nation tomorrow, and help them with some of the things you have accumulated in that brain of yours."

Salvage Campaign for Hospital on In City

A salvage drive for the benefit of the Children's Hospital opened Monday under the direction of the board of the Glendale Auxiliary. All articles that can be disposed of as salvage are solicited. Collection will be made at your homes if you will notify by telephone either of the following officers of the board: Mrs. T. G. McDougall, 676-W or Mrs. E. J. Morgan, 1026-W. The Hi-Y boys are taking charge of collections. The drive will continue through this week.

ORDINANCE ON BARBERS IS SUSPENDED

New Law Is 'Killed' By Officials; Plan to Make New Draft

The City Council has capitulated to the barbers. At a conference held last night at the City hall, an agreement was reached whereby the terms of the ordinance recently passed and now in effect, henceforth will not be enforced. The barbers, it was agreed, will draft an alternative ordinance, "protecting their interests." Meanwhile the barbers will operate their shops much in the same manner they operated them before passage of the ordinance. The barbers claim that their shops are as well conducted as any to be found in any city.

Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer, was present last night at the conference. The ordinance had been passed largely at his insistence, as "a public health measure."

It will be several weeks before a new ordinance can be drafted by the barbers, say those acquainted with the situation. Several weeks more will be required to present the ordinance to the council for amendment and have it passed and become effective.

It was explained at the City Hall that the coming municipal election has nothing at all to do with the decision not to enforce the new ordinance.

Bids Opened

Bids for the improvement of Bruce avenue were opened and read by the city clerk, before the City Council, in session this morning, and were referred to the city engineer for checking and report. The council granted the Union Evangelistic interests a permit to erect a tent tabernacle on East Broadway at Kenwood street, to house the John Brown meetings that will open in Glendale on February 8.

J. H. Randall and other property holders in the Lak street district made statements before the council tending to show that confusion and lack of harmony regarding proposed street improvements exist in the district. J. W. Hilton recalled that police intervention was needed to quell the disturbance at the meeting of January 14. The property owners were told to circulate a petition protesting out the proposed improvement, if they do not favor it.

Road Improvement

The hearing on issuance of bonds for improvement of El Rito avenue and other streets in the Verdugo Woodlands district was continued two weeks. The hearing on assessment for opening and widening of Belmont street was continued one week. The city attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance establishing a commercial district at California avenue and Sycamore Canyon road. On recommendation of the City Planning commission, the council denied application for a commercial district at Elk avenue and Adams street.

Industrial Area

The hearing on establishment of an industrial district in the vicinity of the Calla Lily Creamery Co., on Porter street, was continued one week.

The city clerk was authorized to advertise bids for the sale of a franchise to operate a street railway on portions of Canada boulevard. This action was taken following receipt of an application from the Glendale-Montrose Railway Co. for a franchise to operate their lines over this street.

Hearing on establishment of a commercial district at Pacific avenue and Kenwood street was set before the City Planning commission for February 2, and before the City Council for February 5. The council adjourned at 12 o'clock, to reconvene at 1:30 o'clock.

Small Child Is Dead From Scorpion's Bite

GLOBE, Ariz., Jan. 22.—Little Nicolas Marich, 3, is dead here after being stung by a scorpion. The child had just leaped out of bed and ran into the kitchen to kiss his mother good morning when he was stung by an insect which had been driven into the house because of cold weather.

Evening News Ads Increase Used Car Sale

"Results obtained through the classified columns of The Glendale Evening News in our used car business have been most remarkable," said G. Merrick, sales manager of the Kelley Motor Co., 816 South Brand boulevard, Hudson and Essex dealers, in commenting on recent sales.

"We use a small space in The Evening News classified columns each day, telling of our used car bargains. During the last week we made four good sales, and although we advertise in another newspaper, we were able to trace all four customers to The Evening News classified ads."

Mr. Merrick declared the results gained through The Glendale Evening News to be exceptional and said it was proving to be the most effective advertising medium he has ever come in contact with.

Danger of Strike In Pennsylvania Averted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The danger of a general strike in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields has been averted, Commissioners of Conciliation Thomas Davis and James F. Dewey today advised Secretary of Labor Davis. They also advised him they would join with the anthracite conciliation board and a special commission appointed by John L. Lewis, president of the mine workers, in an attempt to settle the disputes between the miners and operators in the Pittston fields, involving about 11,000 miners.

MANUFACTURERS WILL JOIN FORCES

Industrial Men Lay Plans at Joint Session Between Glendale, Burbank

Glendale and Burbank manufacturers met yesterday at Burbank and laid plans for a tentative joint organization which will function through the Glendale and Burbank Chambers of Commerce.

Twenty-seven consultants and vice-presidents, stationed at Los Angeles, will be brought to the San Fernando valley for a tour of inspection of the manufacturing district under the auspices of the association on February 4, it was decided. J. T. Edwards, and representatives of the Thelme Hosley and Tropico Potteries will have charge of the tour.

The manufacturers will have charge of the monthly meeting of the Associated Chamber of Commerce of the San Fernando valley at Burbank next Tuesday night, when samples of products manufactured in the valley will be given to each person in attendance.

STABILIZE YEN

TOKIO, Jan. 22.—Finance Minister Takayuki Hamaguchi announced today that the government had agreed to sell to the Yokohama specie bank six million yen (about $3,000,000) in gold specie to cover the shortage abroad due to the adverse trade balance of Japan and also to prevent the further decline of the yen in the markets of the world.

Before You Invest Investigate

Will your home be an investment or a liability?

If it always looks well and gives service and comfort without large paint and repair bills; if it is built for permanence, so that walls and floor do not sag or decay; if you can heat it with less fuel and make the combined savings help pay the building loan—it is an investment.

But you can't Invest in shoddy construction. You must have enduring structural strength.

Concrete Masonry homes built with durable concrete building units are approved by Secretary of Commerce Hoover's Building Code Committee. They are the most economical construction material in first and last cost.

And Portland Cement Stucco as an exterior finish, in any of its attractive tints and textures, is as enduring as the concrete wall you place it on. Portland cement is the only stucco material made universally to standard specifications of the government and leading engineering societies.

Concrete Masonry Homes are Durable, Economical, Healthful — and they Represent Permanent Wealth.

BAKERS FIGHT LAW FIXING LOAF SIZE

Proposed Measure to Fix Weight Is Opposed In Washington Circles

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Bread has been handled with gloves since 330 B. C. when Anaxarcho, a man about town in the retinue of Alexander, The Great, refused all bread and pastry not kneaded by slaves with gloves. But the subject of the standard size of a loaf of bread is now being handled without gloves by members of Congress and master bakers. The controversy is being waged fiercely around legislation designed to compel bakers to produce loaves of bread weighing 16 ounces.

Representative Brand of Ohio, and Senator Capper of Kansas, are sponsoring this legislation in the House and Senate, respectively. They declare that enormous profits have accrued from bread making in late years and that the public should be protected against short weight bread.

On the other hand representatives of the bakers declare emphatically that size and weight have little if anything to do with the nutritive value of a loaf of bread or its palatableness and that regulation of the weight of loaves would simply add bulk and not sustenance. Machinery has been doing away with most of the labor of bread making, Brand stated today.

Work by Machine
"Bread materials are mixed by machinery, the dough is heated by machinery, kneaded by machinery, raised by mechanical devices, baked by mechanical help and wrapped by machines," he said. "Labor is only used to watch machinery work. We are probably making bread at the lowest labor cost of any country in the world. We sell bread at 8 to 9 cents a pound, or what purports to be a pound loaf."

"When I was in England last July I found bread selling for 4½ cents a pound. In France, Italy and Greece I found bread selling for 3 cents a pound. In Europe the consumer receives full weight as all bread is sold by weight. In the United States an amount equal to two ounces and even four, is pinched off and this total of short weight is costing the American people $10,000,000 a year."

Mr. Brand wound up with a comment on the recent merger of bakeries under the name of the Continental Baking corporation. The baking interests in reply declared today that modern development in bread making did not stress size or weight of loaf but nutritive value. They pointed out that it was perfectly possible to make bread with no other materials than flour, water, yeast and salt. The modern loaf, however, as produced in America, not only contains a maximum of nutritive value but is prepared and distributed in a thoroughly sanitary way, the cost of such preparation and distribution outweighing the cost of the raw materials.

Denies Monopoly
"The bread business cannot longer be considered a single unit but must be definitely correlated with a number of other businesses such as milling, sugar, eggs and milk, paper, containers and transportation," says George G. Barber, chairman of the board of the Continental Baking Corporation.

"Our organization, for example, requires annually approximately 3,000,000 barrels of flour, 30,000,000 pounds of sugar, 6,500,000 pounds of eggs, 600,000 pounds of butter and about 1,000,000 pounds of shortening. Other commodities required amount to nearly $14,000,000 a year, including raising, paper and containers. The baking business never can become a monopoly. No business can which has to meet competition of the housewives of the country. Give the public what pleases its taste at a price which is right and you will have a steadily increasing market for your product. But fail to please that taste or try to sell the product at a price not commensurate with value and you are likely to be deserted by your patrons who can and will take bread making back to their own kitchens."

He added that 50 per cent of the bread consumed in America is still made in the home, where nutritive value and not weight was the standard employed and declared the far sighted baker would rather increase his profits by increasing volume of business than by making a large profit per loaf. William B. Ward, to whom bread making is not only a family tradition but is regarded as a public service obligation, declares that each loaf having the germ of life within it, has an individuality and that the production of bread under a fixed standard of weight means no added benefit or saving to the consumer.

Fresno Woman's Ashes Shipped To Old Home

ARMONA, Calif., Jan. 22.—Word that the ashes of her sister, who died in this city, have arrived in Coonbridge, Ireland, where burial ceremonies were solemnized, has been received by Miss Marion Eccles.

In compliance with the last wishes of the decedent, the body was cremated in Fresno and the ashes sent across the sea for interment in her native land.

COMMENT BY GIL A. COWAN

A forward looking measure has been introduced in the California Legislature with Senator A. Burlingame Johnson of Pasadena, representing this district, as one of the sponsors in company with Senator Ralph Swing of San Bernardino and Assemblyman Isaac Jones of Ontario.

Should the federal Congress vote the Swing-Johnson Boulder canyon bill now pending, the state by adopting the "Swing-Johnson" measure in its own state senate, would permit of the incorporation of Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange and Los Angeles counties into a district, similar to Imperial county's irrigation district, for the use of the waters for irrigation and power purposes.

This measure undoubtedly will succeed, as it has all the cities and counties of the southland backing the whole project. And while it means a great deal to the metropolitan and agricultural area of the southern part of the state, it is but one of many similar projects to develop the great southwest through the harnessing of the Colorado.

A great many people cannot appreciate what the Swing-Johnson bill—the original in Congress—means in the way of power and water potentialities. The harnessing of the great flood, the development of hydro-electric energy which would operate many new industries, electrically transcontinental railroads and in turn make many many acres of desert lands bloom, in turn building new cities, new inland empires, build Arizona into a great commonwealth—those thoughts are but visions in a great plan which slowly is working toward fruition.

Maurice B. Browne, called "Tollumne" by fellow assemblymen at the state capital, is introducing a bill which would provide for a minimum wage of $20 weekly for working girls and women.

Browne is a six footer, a rancher and lumber jack, who has modeled his life after Lincoln. He believes $16 a week insufficient to provide the necessities of life for the shop girl in the cities.

Browne isn't a politician and he is likened to a bashful hero in the drama of life, by those who know him. But coming from the mountain district he knows the pleasure of living and when he sees the sordidness of city life he yearns to do something for those who by force of circumstance cannot wander along the blue streams, through green fields and giant forests, and climb to the high peaks of his homeland.

Sidelights on human nature are to be had at the capital. And what an impossibility it is to get everyone to agree on any one subject. Listening in on the judiciary committee, as this writer has done with the chief justice, Attorney Frank Weller presiding, one gets a cross section on the various interests represented by the legislators.

There are criminal attorneys, country squires, counsel for the radical element, the corporations, and the varied business interests present. And what one doesn't know about law, the others do. This year the judiciary committee of both houses are doing their utmost to reflect credit on the legal profession. And from their good start, it appears they are going to live up to that aim.

Reproductions of Two Statues For Glendale

Sculptors are now engaged in the full-sized reproduction in marble of two great pieces of Italian sculpture for the enrichment of the art treasures of Southern California, according to an announcement by officials of Forest Lawn Memorial park. A full-sized reproduction of Michael Angelo's famous "Moses" which was ordered last year is now approaching completion and is expected to arrive for placement at Forest Lawn in a few weeks.

As a companion piece the management of the same institution has recently placed a commission for a reproduction of Braza's masterpiece, "The Finding of Moses." This statue which depicts the finding of the baby Moses in the bulrushes by Pharaoh's daughter and which stands in the famous Pincio Gardens, Rome, was being modeled in clay preparatory to being reproduced in marble by the Italian sculptor, Civen, when King George and Queen Mary of England made their recent tour of inspection of the art treasures of Rome, accompanied by Professor Armando Vene and Professor Antonio Mugnoz who were especially detailed by the Italian Ministry of Arts to accompany the king and queen and their suite.

The copies of both pieces of sculpture are being made for Forest Lawn under the personal supervision of Professor Vene, who is chief architect of the Ministry of Arts at Rome. It is expected that the second statue will be ready for shipment toward the end of this year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—Dr. A. W. Morton was charged with the murder of Miss Bertha He, a nurse, in a warrant issued here today. The nurse's death was caused by an alleged illegal operation, it was charged. Miss He was said to have formerly resided in Los Angeles.

WOMEN WILL ENTER INTO POLITICS

League Has Observer Sitting In Capitol Gallery; May Name Candidate

By L. C. OWEN
Special Correspondent to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—Women voters of California, who constitute more than half of the state's voting strength, hereafter are going to discard theory for practicality in politics. Having announced their design of imitating Texas and Wyoming with a woman governor two years hence, they don't propose that the male politicians shall slip anything over on them.

Evidence of that fact is the presence here at the forty-sixth biennial session of the California Legislature of Mrs. Pollyanna Wallace, chairman of the executive committee of the California League of Women Voters, who has been named "official observer" for that body during the present law-making session.

Mrs. Wallace will camp on the observation job until the Assembly and Senate adjourn. After that she will make a detailed report to the women voters on what she has seen.

Just Watching Men
The implied threat in Mrs. Wallace's presence is that in addition to learning the ways of practical politicians, the women voters may be planning to elect a women's Legislature two years hence, as well as a woman governor.

Mrs. Wallace frankly admits that her mission here is to watch the men law makers. And, incidentally, some of the solemn admit that it is mighty easy just to watch Mrs. Wallace. She lives up to the figurative happy vision which her name "Pollyanna" inspires.

She is cheerful, she is comely, her figure has a girlish contour, and she wasn't such an efficient politician her voice is dulcet enough that she probably would be a successful singer. She has "an adorable husband" and two "even more adorable" children.

Calls Them Human
So far Mrs. Wallace has confined herself to saying nice things about the politicians under her scrutiny.

"They are all so human and likeable," she declares. "Of course, some of them may prove to be sadly misguided, poor dears, but they are all splendid nevertheless."

As for the women voters' plans of entering practical politics, Mrs. Wallace is discreetly silent. "We are very much interested," she says, "but she won't forecast how far that interest will go. She prefers to talk about other things for instance."

Keeps Them Busy
"A woman's chief object in life should be to keep her husband interested. The best way to do this is to make one's self interesting, to be able to talk about something besides home and family affairs. Politics is highly educational, and is always interesting to me."

One of the results of the presence of the woman "observer" has been to keep the Assembly away from "horse play." All that is necessary if a member wants to see the body get down to brass tacks is to start the whispered message "Pollyanna is in the gallery."

Ethics Of Sanitarium Studied By Professor

Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital furnished much material for study for Dr. R. C. Denison of the faculty of Pomona College, who recently spent a month at the hilltop institution. Dr. Denison was conversing from an attack of pneumonia. He was most interested in the ethical life at the sanitarium, and he will use it as a theme for several lectures during coming weeks in his ethics class at the college.

Roman Deputy's Murder Trial Set For Aquila

Seven Indian Officers Held In Beauty's Case

BOMBAY, Jan. 22.—Seven officers of the native state of Indore, including the aide de camp of the Maharajah himself, whose royal favor proved a curse to the beautiful Nautch girl, Mumtaz Begum, today were under arrest in connection with the attack on the girl and her lover.

Pirates Disguised As Sailors Held In China

HONG KONG, Jan. 22.—Seven bandits who shipped with the British steamer Hongkwa as seamen, then turned pirates, and looted the vessel of $30,000, were arrested today. The leader of the pirate band was killed in a revolver battle, resisting arrest.

Glendale today welcomes to the circle of its many splendid civic clubs, the new organization that will tonight receive its charter as the LIONS' CLUB at the Oakmont Country Club, whose membership is a pledge of devotion to the City and to Humanity.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Jan. 22.—Fifteen reservations for the matinee session of the P-T-A. reading circle were made yesterday afternoon at the weekly meeting held at the home of Mrs. Virna Harman Walker. After reading hour luncheon was served a feature being the hot salad rolls which were furnished by the Holsum Co. of whose demonstrator gave a short outline of the company's work. If plans for the P-T-A. Fathers' Night decide February 4 as the date on which to entertain father, the matinee will be on February 6, whereas if the latter date is chosen for the fathers' party the matinee will be on the fourth. Members of the circle owning cars, will drive the women to Hollywood where "Romola" will be seen at the Egyptian theatre. Over twenty members were present at the meeting yesterday. Mrs. Walker was assisted in serving by Mrs. G. McConnell.

Mrs. Theodore Habbekorn who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. George Hansen, of East Piedmont avenue has returned to her home in Bell. Mrs. Habbekorn was accompanied by her niece, Miss Jane Hoham, who recently returned from the Hawaiian islands where she taught school for about two years.

C. W. Angier and A. C. Cox, scout master and assistant respectively, have returned from the scout masters' training camp at Camp Huntington where they gathered many new ideas in the conduct of scout camps and training of boys. Mr. Cox reported there were over 200 scout masters present.

Tomorrow night there will be a novel entertainment held in the La Crescenta Community church when Rev. Hoffman will give an illustrated lecture on "Old New England Village and Town." Rev. Hoffman has given this lecture from one end of the country to the other. There are seventy-five slides to bring scenes of the New England states to California with an intimate view of the life lived by the average person in the east. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Women's league of the church. A free will offering will be taken. All residents of the valley are invited.

Mrs. Seymour Thomas of Cudde Doon, entertained at her home yesterday afternoon to introduce the new members of the guild of St. Luke's of the Mountains also the new members of the church. About thirty-five women were present. Mrs. Thomas was assisted in serving by Mrs. A. W. Brown and Mrs. Thomas Minford.

Thirty women residents of the Highway Highlands tract were entertained last week by Mrs. R. Q. MacDonald with a social get-together tea. So enthusiastic were the women over the success of the affair the Highway Highlands Tuesday Afternoon club was organized. Meetings to be held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. During the afternoon Mrs. J. E. Cook who is an artist of L. erit hung a canvas of the La Crescenta valley as seen from Highway Highlands and gave a short talk on art. There are many talented members in this new residential district all of whom are asked to contribute to the entertainment at the meetings. Officers of the new club are: Mrs. R. Q. MacDonald, president; Mrs. H. Kemp, vice-president, and Mrs. F. Berry, secretary. Tea tables gay with sweet peas added to the festive air while a radio furnished a program during the tea hour. Mesdames R. Q. MacDonald and H. Kemp were hostesses for the occasion with Mrs. George Yerson at the tea urn.

Last night the newly formed Masonic club of La Crescenta valley held its first meeting in the vacant store at Highway Highlands where more than twenty members of the fraternal organization met to discuss future plans. Among those present were: Dr. J. H. Annis and Charles S. Collins, both of whom are past grand masters of the order. After the business meeting women served refreshments. There will be an open meeting called within two weeks when all Masons and their wives are invited to attend the get-acquainted party. Newly elected officers of the club are: Dr. J. H. Annis, president; R. Q. MacDonald, vice-president; Paul M. Rodet, secretary and treasurer; A. Moise, sergeant-at-arms; A. F. Hopkins, publicity chairman.

Members of the La Crescenta Woman's club who are desirous of making reservations for the bridge-mah jongg tea, to be given at the home of Mrs. Charles Turk next Tuesday are requested to call Mrs. Turk at her home, Glendale 2424-R-3. Reservations have been made by Los Angeles and Glendale, and tables having been taken by women from the latter town. A program will be given during the afternoon. A number of the club members will assist the hostesses in serving. A novel feature of the tea will be the coffee served, which is being brought from the Central American plantation of the Misses Moissant, who are members of the local club.

Rehearsals for a play, "Dinner's Served," are being held by the Dramatic club of the school, composed of upper grade girls. Teachers of the school hold weekly meetings at which questions of administrations and methods of instruction are discussed. Nearly 150 pupils have opened savings accounts under a plan inaugurated by the Tujunga Valley bank. Deposits of the combined accounts amount to more than $500.

of Lionism, including International President Harry A. Newman, whose home is in Toronto, Canada, and District Governor Fred Johns, of Sacramento. Visiting dens will also seize the opportunity of putting on impromptu stunts between courses.

From Other Clubs
At this point the presidents of each of the other four Glendale service clubs will rise and offer felicitations. President J. Herbert Smith will speak for Rotary. President Frank L. Fox for Kiwanis. President William Baker for Exchange and President Dr. Henry Boyer for Optimist.

Music will be furnished throughout the banquet by the Lions Club orchestra of Glendale, directed by Harold Korn. Later there will be a special musical half-hour, supervised by Roul Pereira, a cub of the Glendale den whose musical talents are well known. The speaking program will then follow, after which there will be dancing, with music by Harold Korn's syncopators.

Principal Address
Dale Park of the Los Angeles den of Lions will deliver the principal address of the speaking program. His talk will be on "Lionism," wherein he will set forth some of the ideals and aims of the International Association of Lions clubs, showing how each individual club must co-operate to accomplish the general good.

Mr. Park will reiterate the principles of Lionism, stressing the fact that Lions clubs are non-political, non-sectarian organizations composed of representative business and professional men; that these clubs should ever strive to promote the principles of good government and good citizenship; that they should unite their members in the bonds of fellowship and mutual understanding; and that they should, in brief, be builders, seeking by education to make the rising generation better fitted to carry on the leadership of the nation.

Means Much to City
In his presentation of the charter, Deputy Governor Riley will tell the Lions of the local den, visiting Lions and friends that the organization of a Lions club in Glendale means much to the city and will be the beginning of a new era of progress and prosperity.

President Kelly of the local den will accept the charter on behalf of his club, thanking Deputy Governor Riley for his high opinion of the new unit in Lionism and stating that the Glendale den faces its task with thirty-three full-fledged Lions, each ready and eager to fight for the aims and ideals of Lions International—in the making of a better city, a better state and a better nation.

payment. A heavy fine and imprisonment penalty are also awaiting such "bonus-bootleggers." The "dads" of veterans of the World war are at last coming into their own, if James K. Fisk, department adjutant of the American Legion has anything to say about it. Hitherto, Fisk points out, the mothers, wives and sisters of the former service men were the only relatives brought together through the Women's Auxiliary of the legion. Now by means of the Fathers' Councils to be established throughout the state, the "pa's" "dads" and "fathers" will be given recognition by Legionnaires and a better understanding of the jobs in which fathers and sons are respectively interested will, it is hoped, result.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.—Advertisement.

criminal, arising within the corporate limits of the city and which might be tried in such justices' court. Said police court shall have exclusive jurisdiction of all actions for recovery of any fine, penalty, or forfeiture prescribed for breach of any ordinance of the city; of all actions founded upon any obligation or liability created by any ordinance and of all prosecutions for any violation of any ordinance.

"The rules of practice and mode of proceeding in said police court shall be the same as are or may be prescribed by law for justices' courts in like cases. Appeals may be taken to the supreme court of the county in which the city of Glendale is located, from all judgments of said police court in like manner and with like jurisdiction as in cases of appeals from justices' court."

Urges Court Visit
One of the most interesting things you can do is to visit Judge Lowe's police court. The court, which is located on the second floor of the City Hall, opens at 10 o'clock. You enter the door to find before you a rather long, narrow room—the floor space occupied by rows of collapsible wooden chairs.

At the far end of the room is a raised platform surrounded by a railing. Inside this railing is seated the judge, behind his high desk, and to his right, his stenographer. This also serves as a witness stand, when the occasion calls for it.

The judge first calls for order by rapping on the desk with his gavel. He consults his papers and books on his desk and proceeds to call out the first case to be heard, by naming the defendant. Either the defendant, or some one left to take his place then steps forward, facing the judge, standing just outside the railing.

Charge Is Read
The judge reads the charges brought against him and asks him if he has anything to say for himself. The defendant then proceeds to tell his side of the story, being careful to omit no details and to tell the truth.

If he wishes, he may demand a trial by jury, which is more expensive because it usually necessitates hiring a lawyer. If so, the case is postponed until a later date.

In most cases, however, the accused is sentenced to pay a fine of anywhere from $5 to $500, depending on the magnitude of his crime, or her crime, as the case may be, for men are not the only ones accused of speeding, etc. The fine may either be paid to the stenographer immediately or mailed within a certain date.

On the whole, the Glendale courts are under competent management, are smooth-running, efficient and are serving the ends of justice in a creditable manner.

MEXICAN SUGAR
Although Mexico produces more sugar than it can use, the sweet is imported in the north central states because it is cheaper to buy from the United States than from mills in the southern or western parts of Mexico.

LEGION NOTES

At the meeting of the national executive committee of the American Legion held last week in Indianapolis, John A. Sinclair of San Mateo was chosen as chairman of the national rehabilitation committee of the twelfth district. Sinclair succeeds Judge A. E. Graupner of San Francisco who served for two years on this committee. The district comprises the states of California, Nevada and Arizona and the work of the committee is concerned with the Legion's hospitalization program, the functioning of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau and the general welfare of World War veterans. Sinclair is a past commander of San Mateo post, and now holds the office in the California department of alternate national executive committee. Together with James Mulcare, secretary of the local committee, he will attend a meeting of the national board to be held in Washington, February 1-3.

Nathan F. Coombs, commander of California has warned all posts in this state against stumbling into the boxing game. In his recent bulletin to legionnaires, Coombs urges posts to carefully sound out the sentiment in their respective communities toward this sport and bids them watch their step before falling into the clutches of unscrupulous exploiters who would use the legion's name to further their own ambitions.

The attention of all service men and women of the World war now residing in California is invited by James K. Fisk, department adjutant of the American Legion to the threatened "bootlegging" in bonuses recently issued by the government to the veterans. With reference to this illicit trading in adjusted compensation certificates, Fisk points out that Congress took particular pains to make these certificates not negotiable for a period of two years, and that any person or company lending money to veterans on said certificates during this period, are not only breaking the law but that they have in their possession an insurance policy that has become void and will not be recognized by the government at any future time for

City's Newest Service Organization Is Establishing Excellent Record

GRANT CHARTER TO LIONS' DEN TONIGHT

Deputy District Governor Jack Riley To Attend Gathering To Be Held At Oakmont Country Club

Glendale's newest service organization, the Lions club, will be christened tonight with brilliant ceremonies, before a gathering of 300 banqueters, at the Oakmont Country club, when the charter will be presented to President W. B. Kelly by Jack Riley, deputy district governor. Clifford A. Williams, president of the Pasadena den of Lions, sponsoring organization, will be toastmaster.

Words of welcome will be extended on behalf of the city by Mayor Spencer Robinson. D. H. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will tender the felicitations of that organization to the new club, while Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, will extend the greeting of the women of Glendale.

The presidents of the four similar organizations—J. Herbert Smith of Rotary, Frank L. Fox of Kiwanis, William Baker of Exchange and Dr. H. R. Boyer of Optimist—will then welcome the new star into the constellation of local luncheon clubs whose ideal is service.

Use Club Colors

Telegrams will then be read by Harry Newman of Toronto, international president, and from Fred Johns of Sacramento, district governor. In presenting the charter, Deputy Riley will stress the fact that Lionism stands for good government. President Kelly, who will receive the charter on behalf of his organization, will emphasize the fact that the Glendale den of Lions will ever strive to live up to this fundamental principle of Lionism.

The great banquet hall of the Oakmont Country club will be beautifully and appropriately decorated in Scotch heather and marigolds, to suggest purple and gold, the colors of Lions International. The 100 members and friends, with their 200 visiting Lions and guests, will all wear gay colored hats, and the members will have on their lapel buttons. Tuxedos will be the prevailing dress for men, and evening gowns for women.

Among the visiting Lions will be delegations from nearly all of the thirty clubs in Group 2 of the Fourth district, including Pasadena, Los Angeles, Hollywood, Huntington Park, Santa Monica, Venice and Long Beach. There will be a special musical half hour under the direction of

BETTER GOVERNMENT IS MOTTO OF LIONS

Organization Takes Active Interest In Social and Moral Conditions of Community, Says President

Lions' clubs are non-political, non-sectarian organizations composed of representative business and professional men who feel an interest in the welfare and progress of their city, according to President W. B. Kelly of the Glendale den of Lions. Lionism promotes the principles of good government, he adds, takes an active interest in the social and moral conditions of the country, unites its members in the bonds of constructive friendship and promotes educational and civic opportunities, not only for club members but residents in general.

Membership in a Lions club is acquired by invitation only, declares Mr. Kelly, none but men of honor and high standing being asked to affiliate. Only one member is assigned to each classification.

"We stand for full and hearty co-operation with other service clubs, the Chamber of Commerce and other civic and commercial organizations," he says, "in all movements of the community which seek to promote any betterment, civic, industrial or educational, and any plans looking toward the elimination of class distinction. The biggest asset of a nation being its people, one of the cardinal points of Lionism is the cultivation of a spirit of genuine brotherhood among men."

"Our slogan—'Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation's Safety'—emphasizes this. Our code of ethics reiterates it. This code is a truly wonderful document. Each Lion takes this pledge:

- 1—To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.
- 2—To seek success, and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self-respect lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part.
- 3—To remember that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.

INTERNATIONAL LIONS WAS FOUNDED IN 1917

First Annual Convention Was Held In Dallas With Twenty-five Clubs Represented; Now Have 800

One of the outstanding developments of the past decade, in the realm of community service, has been the growth of the luncheon club idea. In this work Lions International has been a leader, points out W. B. Kelly, president of the Glendale den of Lions. Organized in June, 1917, in Chicago, the International Association of Lions clubs held its first annual convention at Dallas, Tex., with a roster of twenty-five clubs. There are now over 800 Lions clubs, reaching all over the United States and Canada.

The headquarters of the association is the McCormick building, 332 South Michigan avenue, Chicago. Harry A. Newman of Toronto, Canada, is international president; Benjamin F. Jones of Newark, New Jersey, is first vice-president; William A. Westfall of Mason City, Iowa, is second vice-president; Irving L. Camp of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, is third vice-president, and Melvin Jones of Chicago is secretary-treasurer. The following are the directors: Dr. M. M. Nielson, Salt Lake City, Utah; Fred N. Redheffer, Kansas City, Mo.; Mason M. Forbes, Duluth, Minnesota; Ray L. Riley, Sacramento, California; Howard M. Bird, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania; Julien C. Hyer, Fort Worth, Texas; B. A. Ruffin, Richmond, Virginia; John H. Boys, Wichita, Kansas; Thomas H. Halliburton, Macon, Georgia.

Annual Meetings In 1918 the annual convention was held at St. Louis, Missouri; in 1919, Chicago; in 1920, Denver; in 1921, Oakland, California; in 1922, Hot Springs, Arkansas; in 1923, Atlantic City, New Jersey; in 1924, Omaha, Nebraska. The 1925 convention of the International Association of Lions clubs will be held at Cedar Point, Ohio, in June.

The states of California, Nevada and the Island of Hawaii comprise the Fourth district of the International organization, with Fred J. Johns of Sacramento as governor of the district, and Jack Riley of Los Angeles as deputy district governor.

One of the principles of Lionism is that the future of the nation rests with the youth of today. It holds that education is of paramount importance. It was with this principle in mind that Lions International was founded, declares President Kelly of the Glendale club, and it is with this principle ever to the fore that the organization grows, developing first class Christian citizens to take up the reins of government.

Have 40,000 Members There are at the present time approximately 40,000 members in the 800 Lions clubs of the United States and Canada, according to figures given out from headquarters in Chicago. The international offices occupy some 2,500 feet of floor space and twenty employees are required to keep things going smoothly in each of the hundreds

LOCAL DEN OF LIONS FORMED BY QUINTET

Inception Dates From September 29, When Initial Meeting Was Held In Office of W. B. Kelly

The Glendale den of Lions, numbering thirty-three members, had its inception the night of September 29, 1924, when five men gathered in the office of W. B. Kelly, now president, 106 West Colorado boulevard. With them met Jack Riley, deputy district governor. They met for the purpose of asking a dispensation for a charter.

Those five original Glendale Lions are: W. B. Kelly, A. R. Holland, Dr. N. C. Paine, George L. Kaeding and John W. Swearingin. Mr. Kelly was elected temporary chairman and Mr. Holland was elected temporary secretary-treasurer. They were authorized by Deputy Riley to act as an executive committee.

The first luncheon of the embryo club was held at the Kopper Kettle tea room, 328 North Brand boulevard, on December 3. A number of prospective members were present, and there were in attendance a dozen members of the sponsoring Pasadena den.

Weekly Meetings Thereafter weekly luncheons were held. After completion of the charter roll of twenty-five, early in December, application for a charter was forwarded to 332 South Michigan avenue, Chicago, home office of Lions International. On December 13 the charter that is to be presented tonight was officially granted.

Meanwhile the Glendale den had, on November 26, at a luncheon meeting held at the Tuesday Afternoon club, elected officers to serve for the club year ending June 30, as follows: W. B. Kelly, president; Dr. N. C. Paine, first vice-president; George L. Kaeding, second vice-president; A. R. Holland, secretary-treasurer; Paul P. Scoles, lion tamer; and A. H. Mayne, tail twister. These six officers constitute the board of directors.

At a banquet held December 8 at the Biltmore hotel, Los Angeles, in honor of Harry Newman, international president, President Kelly of the local den was introduced in person by President Newman of Lions International that the Glendale charter had been granted.

Committee Heads In the meetings that have followed, various committee chairmen have been named by the president, the total list at present standing as follows: Dr. N. C. Paine, finance; George L. Kaeding, membership; R. A. Mason, educational; Dr. James E. Eckles, welfare; E. S. Beggs, civic; W. S. Ingram, publicity; Paul P. Scoles, fellowship; J. R. Grey, safety campaign; A. J. Brown, ways and means.

In addition, the following special committee is working on Charter Night plans: Dr. C. M. Woodward, Roul Pereira, Paul P. Scoles, S. S. Beran, F. L. Fay, Frank Brock, W. B. Kelly and A. R. Holland.

In the three months of its existence, the Glendale den of Lions is credited with furthering a number of worthy objects. At Christmas time the club raised a special fund to furnish cheer to the veterans at Sawtelle. Several matters of civic interest have been sponsored. And starting Tuesday of this week a safety campaign was launched by the club, stickers for automobiles being circulated and the co-operation of Glendale police department obtained.

Bridge Plans Call for Three Spans In County

Los Angeles city bond issues to cover the cost of the bridges, was unanimously adopted at the close of the session, after speakers representing many localities had talked in favor of the plan.

Glendale was officially represented by Lon Haddock, who favored the plan in his address. T. F. McClish, Percy J. Hayselden, M. Walters, T. W. Watson and L. T. Rowley represented the Glendale Planning commission and the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Haddock stressed the great need for additional bridge facilities at the south entrance to Glendale. Great and damaging traffic congestion results regularly in the Atwater vicinity and at the foot of Brand boulevard because of an inadequate highway system at that point, he said. He also pointed to the rapid growth of territory to the north of Glendale which is constantly increasing the traffic problem.

Atwater Problem

John J. Wray, director of the Atwater Improvement association, spoke in behalf of that section, urging the adoption of the bridge plans. Others who advocated the bridges were: Leo Lesperance, Associated Chambers of Commerce of San Fernando valley, L. W. Ash, Highland Park; George B. Dickenson, Santa Monica; Montaville Flowers, Pasadena and Monrovia; S. D. Challensmith, Sawtelle Chamber of Commerce; Gordon D. Whitnall, director Los Angeles Traffic commission; F. J. Castanlan, Vine Business Men's association, Hollywood; Rudolph H. Schwarzkopf, Arcadia; Frank C. Smoots, Sherman Chamber of Commerce; H. N. Fowler, Verdugo City; Frank Wheeler, secretary Foothill Boulevard association; J. H. McKinney, Santa Monica; J. P. Young, Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce.

Councilmen Sanborn, Baker and Wheeler of Los Angeles, City Attorney Jesse Stephens, County Counsel Bishop, and John Prince and R. C. Butler of the Los Angeles engineering department, promised their support in getting a bond issue for the bridges before the people. It was explained that the bonds would be divided between the city and the county and that a share of the cost would be borne by the railroad company.

One of the latest business structures erected in Glendale and now ready for occupancy is the Fisher Building, located at the corner of Elk and Glendale Ave. P. Fisher is the owner—and S. S. Beran was the general contractor. The building is attractively constructed of brick—and although of one story the retaining walls were built strong enough to carry an additional story when needed. Mr. Fisher will occupy the store-room at the Elk Street entrance for a Tailor Shop. The corner store is for lease, as are two more store-rooms on Glendale Avenue. The structure is up-to-date and is well located for almost any kind of business—particularly for a drug store in the corner store-room.

An interesting feature in regard to the construction of this building is the fact that S. S. Beran, the contractor, completed the entire structure within thirty-one days of starting the foundation—which is an enviable record, the building being 63x85 feet in size and containing four store-rooms and an apartment.

Income Tax Problems Are Solved By Expert

Questions regarding amount of income tax to be paid for the year 1924 under the federal statutes are answered in this column by Rex B. Goodcell, Collector of Internal Revenue, in charge of the Los Angeles district. Similar questions and answers will appear from time to time in The Glendale Evening News.

Rex B. Goodcell, collector of internal revenue, and in charge of the Los Angeles district, has prepared for the Glendale Evening News a list of questions and answers pertaining to the payment and amount of the income tax on incomes for 1924. Other questions and answers will appear in the columns of The Glendale Evening News later. Today's list follows: Many taxpayers are confused as to what constitutes "the head of a family" and as to the provisions of the income tax laws covering deductions for "dependents." Thousands of taxpayers who have taken incorrect deductions for dependents are summoned to the Internal Revenue office every year. Study this series of questions and answers and you may save yourself an extra trip to the federal building: What is meant by the head of a family?

Internal revenue regulations class as head of a family "a person who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption and whose right to exercise family control and provide for those dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." In the absence of continuous actual residence together, whether or not a person with dependent relatives is a head of a family within the meaning of the statute must depend on the character of the separation. If a father is absent on business, or a child or other dependent is away at school or on a visit, the common home being maintained exemption as head of a family is allowed. If through force of circumstances, a parent is obliged to maintain his dependent children with relatives or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption as head of a family is allowed.

The regulations further state, however, "If a dependent without necessity (note the last two words) continuously makes his home elsewhere, his benefactor is not the head of a family, irrespective of the question of support."

A widower has a child over 18 years of age, whom he supports, who is away from home attending school. What personal exemption may be claimed by the widower who maintains the home?

He is entitled to claim a personal exemption of $2,500 as head of a family.

What personal exemption may be claimed by a son who actually supports and maintains his dependent mother elsewhere than in his own home by reason of the fact that he is unable to earn enough to support both in the mother's place of abode or to defray their joint expenses in his place of employment?

The son is properly classified for income tax purposes as the head of a family and as such is entitled to claim a personal exemption of $2,500.

In the case both a husband and wife contribute to the support of a dependent, how is the credit of $400 for dependents to be treated?

The credit of $400 must be taken by the one contributing the chief support and may not be divided between them.

I was not actually living with my wife on December 31, 1924, due to her mental incompetency at that time and consequent confinement in an institution for treatment. What personal exemption may I claim in my return for the year 1924?

The separation of a husband and wife due to the fact that either has been declared incompetent and confined in an institution for treatment is held to be temporary in character and consequently without effect in so far as the joint personal exemption is concerned. In such cases you may claim $2,500 as a personal exemption.

I am the sole support of my mother, maintaining a home in which she and I live, and, therefore, claim as head of a family a personal exemption of $2,500. My net income, however, for taxable purposes is only $2,300. Am I required to file a return in view of the fact that I do not have to pay a tax?

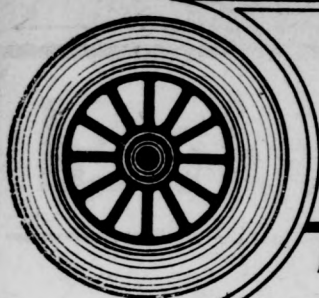

Yes. In such a case you are required to file a return, although you are not subject to tax. The head of a household if unmarried is classed as a single person and must file a return if his net income is $1,000 or more or his gross income is $5,000 or more.

Week-Old Baby Found Outside Hotel's Door

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—Hearing infant cries outside his room, Oscar Johnson, a guest at the Ansonia House, 1011½ Fifth street, arose early this morning and found a baby boy about a week old deposited in the corridor. The baby was dressed in new clothes and wrapped in a blanket. No means of identification could be found. The new arrival was taken to the matron at the hall of justice. Later it was christened James Marshall Sutter, and police, headed by Detective Sergeant Arthur Ryan, contributed $50 toward its immediate needs. Many applications for adoption are being received.

AUTOMOBILE SECTION

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JAN. 22, 1925

NEW TRAFFIC ORDINANCE WAITED

Pedestrians to Benefit on Biggest Scale by New Law in L. A.

Pedestrians have cause to be thankful for the new traffic ordinance that goes into effect in the city of Los Angeles next Saturday. The most important changes in the law are designed to protect persons on foot, and it is believed this will be appreciated since they suffer the largest percentage of injuries from automobile accidents.

In the congested districts crosswalks will be painted on the pavements and where these obtain, pedestrians have the right of way over vehicles, where traffic officers are not on duty. To obtain the right of way the pedestrian must hold up his hand, palm out, to indicate a desire to cross the roadway. It will be unlawful for any motorist to disobey such signal.

In return for this new privilege, pedestrians are expected to follow the signals given for vehicle traffic. They may no longer cross a street contrary to such signals. This rule is in operation wherever a traffic officer or a mechanical signal shall be at work.

Another feature of the new ordinance is that it is unlawful to overtake or pass a street car within 100 feet of the nearest street intersection ahead. Where there are safety zones the automobile need not wait after stopping behind the street car, but must come to a full stop to comply with the law. It is urged by the Automobile Club of Southern California that all motorists familiarize themselves with the changes that will go into effect and to govern themselves accordingly in order that congestion may be avoided and trouble averted.

Under the new regulations, a central traffic district is set aside in the downtown section; a business district is defined as one where more than 50 per cent of the abutting property is used for commercial purposes; motorists must keep off the street car tracks; Western Avenue, Vermont Avenue and Washington Street are included in those where boulevard stops prevail; pedestrians are further protected at alleys and driveways; motorists must exercise greater care in turning; and parking limits are outlined, although there is not much change in these.

Public School Safety Lesson Is Life Saver

A reduction of 21 per cent in the expectancy of child fatalities due to motor vehicles has been made through systematic teaching of safety in the public schools of Los Angeles, according to figures for 1924 just completed by the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The safety curriculum in the Los Angeles public schools was inaugurated nearly three years ago, through the co-operation of the board of education and the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. The little folk are given practical instruction and, in addition, they compete in designing safety posters and verses for use in the bulletins and other literature that are necessary in the work.

Safety committees are formed in the schools, and diplomas are issued to the youngsters completing the course and doing their part, not only in observing safety rules themselves, but in watching the younger children.

Ball Players Summoned To World Series Quiz

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis was asked to produce ten members of the New York Giants and Philadelphia Nationals teams for questioning in connection with the district attorney's investigation of the Dolan-O'Connell bribery scandal. The request was made by Assistant District Attorney George N. Broderick, who is conducting the investigation, and following are the players asked to appear:

Jimmy O'Connell, Albert "Cozy" Dolan, Ross Young, Frank Frisch, George L. Kelly of the Giants; John Sands, Arthur Fletcher, Horace Ford, John Couch and Joe Oeschger of the Phillies.

Highways Delegates In Squabble At Capitol

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—E. E. East of Glendale, engineer for the Automobile club of Southern California, and J. B. Gill of San Bernardino returned home after being unable to agree, it is reported, with the majority views of the California highway committee of nine relative to a program of building and financing state roads. They represented the southern counties. It is probable that a preliminary report by the majority will be filed with the governor during the next few days.

PROPOSED GAS TAX LAW IS UNCERTAIN

People May Take Hand In Matter If Legislators Act Over Protest

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—If the Legislature should enact over widespread protest an amendment increasing the present gasoline tax from 2 cents to 3 cents per gallon the legislation will be held up by referendum and submitted to a vote of the people, according to Senator Will R. Sharkey, of Contra Costa. Senator Sharkey said today he had been informed that plans already have been laid by opponents of the proposed tax increase to send the issue to the people for decision.

"As far as I have been able to ascertain," said Senator Sharkey, "there is growing in California the same sort of protest against increased motor vehicle taxation as developed in Massachusetts last year and resulted there in the people voting down a 2-cent gasoline tax by a majority of 270,000."

Gasoline Tax
"The gasoline tax is the poor man's burden. When one considers that the motoring public paid in 1924 gasoline taxes amounting to more than $14,000,000, motor vehicle fees totaling $7,160,000 and that bus and stage line receipts amounted to $600,000, total of $21,760,000, there is ground to believe that the motorist is paying more than his just share of taxes."

"With registration of motor vehicles increased by 20 per cent in 1925, revenues for 1925 will be: gasoline tax $16,800,000; motor vehicle collections, $8,592,000; bus and stage line receipts $600,000; which, with Federal highway aid amounting to $2,750,000, will make a grand total of $28,742,000. On the basis of an estimated 15 per cent increase for 1926 the revenues for that year for highway purposes would amount to $29,800,800, all of which the long suffering motorists, excepting of course Federal aid, will have to pay."

Detailed Results
"Owing to the approach towards the point of saturation with respect to motor vehicle registration, it is quite possible that the percentage increases for 1927 and ensuing years will be lower. Nevertheless, fixing the increases for 1927 and 1928 at 10 per cent and for the years from 1929 to 1935 at 5 per cent, and using the 1925 revenues as a base, the total gasoline tax revenues for the next ten years, under the existing law, would be $263,803,422. Registration fees during that period would bring in $134,916,599."

"Add to this for the 10 year

My Home Town!

Why do folks like their home town? Various reasons, more or less explicit are given, but through most of them runs the same big undercurrent: It is my home. My friends are there. Here are the people I know and understand, those who know me and would miss me if I were gone. This is the place where I belong. This makes a city sacred. This makes of consequence our rights to safety, to health, to comfort, to the homes for which we have worked and to all the advantages that are the result of work and foresight. The rights of our neighbors are sacred, too. It may be our child who suffers from dangerous traffic conditions. It may be our aged mother who is run down by a reckless motorist. Let's make our city the Safest and Best city, says the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The Glendale den of Lions is conducting a safety campaign, in conjunction with Lions' dens of other cities and the project has the endorsement of the police department, the police judge and other city officials.

CHRYSLER MAKES FIRST AUTO FIRM STILL PRODUCING

With Maxwell These Two Cars Attracted Attention At New York, Chicago

"Engineers and designers from the leading automotive factories in the United States were closely examining the models of the Chrysler and Maxwell cars that were on display at the recent automobile shows at New York and Chicago," reports LeRoy Justice, factory supervisor for the Pacific coast, on a visit here this week to Lyman P. Clark, president of the Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 West Colorado street, Maxwell and Chrysler dealers. Mr. Justice was accompanied by Edward Harvey of Glendale, assistant supervisor for the coast states, and the two men have just returned from the east where they attended both shows.

"The Chrysler's success in pioneering along new lines and in adopting entirely new engineering principles," says Mr. Justice, "has had a marked effect in assisting the development of the present trend toward cars with smaller motors, with shorter wheelbase and with lighter weight, and this trend is in line with the present demand for greater economy in the first cost of the cars as well as in operating costs."

"The Maxwell, too, came in for a generous share of attention, and the success that the Chrysler engineers and designers have registered with the Good Maxwell was the subject of extremely favorable comment. One of the finest cars introduced a series of closed models to which the manufacturers have adapted several of the improvements that were introduced by the Maxwell in its new models."

The service facilities and equipment of the Glendale Motor Car Co. were warmly commended by the factory representatives.

BUICK EXPERT SAYS 'KNOW YOUR CAR'

Driving Is Least Important Factor In Knowledge Of Auto, Claim

By E. T. STRONG
General Sales Manager
Buick Motor Co.

In a good automobile school, instead of starting the course by teaching the students how to drive, instructors leave the driving until the last lesson is covered. For the main thing is to get the principles thoroughly clear to the students, and to make them understand why certain things happen, rather than to demonstrate that they do happen. Anybody can learn to drive in a few hours, because it is a comparatively simple thing to do. But to get an accurate knowledge of motor car design and construction that will enable the student to think and talk correctly about motor cars, and to know good or bad design when he sees it, the work must be constructive and thorough, and it must start at the beginning.

For example, the first step in building a Buick car is to rivet the side members and cross members of the frame together. A properly conducted class in an automobile school will be drilled on these points. They will be told where the greatest strain on the frame occurs under various conditions; they will be told why the outside cross members are not

Million Auto Tourists May Enter State

More than 1,000,000 tourists are expected to enter the borders of California by automobile during 1925, according to a summary of the situation compiled by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Basing this prediction on the normal increase in travel over the transcontinental routes, there is every indication that a new high mark for visiting motorists will be set in the present year.

What is regarded as the best forecast of heavy travel is the inquiries from the east reaching the touring bureau during 1924. These showed an increase of more than 36 per cent over 1923. All of these were answered in detail and some idea of the prospective tourists provided with routings to California may be had in the announcement that a large percentage of the more than 9,000,000 maps distributed during the year were sent in response to requests from the east.

Oil Stations Lined Up In Opposition To Proposed State Legislation

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service
Special to The Evening News.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—With the stormy winds of March will come another whirlwind to the California legislature—the report of the Governor's committee of nine on the highways of the state, and how to finance them.

E. E. East, engineer of the Auto club of Southern California, and a resident of Glendale, is said to be the stormy petrel of the committee by some others reporting its sessions which will result in the filing of a majority report by seven members and a minority report by two others, one of whom is Mr. East, the writer is told.

The split in committee, which will be carried to the floor of the senate and assembly undoubtedly, after some hot clashes in committees, has resulted from the oil companies' and auto club's opposition to a penny increase in the gasoline tax, now 2 cents a gallon. The Standard Oil Co., it is said, already has unleashed a propaganda campaign against additional gasoline taxes and every service station is passing out pamphlets against the move. The Independent Oil Producers association, among others, is entering the battle representing

New and Still Lower Prices Greater Values Made Still Greater

Reductions are announced in the prices of good Maxwell models, coincident with the advent of the new Standard Sedan.

The new good Maxwell has long led in value all other cars in its field, because as a dollar-for-dollar buy its quality could not be equaled. Not only in performance and riding qualities does it surpass all fours, but these new and lower prices now make it a better investment than ever before, and great values are made still greater.

more companies opposing the proposal, while the State Supervisors' association is sponsoring the gas tax. Little Merry Mixup is the essence of the whole performance which will be staged for the benefit of the motoring public.

License Fee Increase

One thing does seem probable, however, and that is an increase of $2 in the license fee paid by each vehicle, giving $3,000,000 for the construction of new highways. But when one considers the needed, or at least proclaimed, necessary highways, that sum is only a needle in the haystack. Actually, there is talk of a $150,000,000 bond issue.

The committee of nine did agree on classification of highways, first consideration being given main trunk lines, such as the transcontinental and interstate routes; second, roads connecting county seats; third, district roads, and fourth, laterals between existing highways. It will require a month to classify all of the requests, according to W. F. Nixon, secretary of the California Highway commission, and ex-officio secretary of the committee.

In the meantime a summary of the committee's work will be pre-period the sum of $33,500,000 representing Federal highway aid and bus and stage revenues and the state would have for highway purposes for the 10 year period a total of $432,220,021, or an average of over $43,000,000 annually. For one, can see no reason why the California motorist should be called upon to pay during the next 10 years a total of $131,901,711 additional, as represented by the proposed 1 cent gas tax increase, and $50,311,080 additional in the same period as represented by the proposed $2.00 increase in flat registration fees.

sented Governor Richardson within the next few days. Senator Arthur H. Brand, chairman of the committee, is going to introduce the measure increasing the gasoline tax.

Another bit of legislation of interest to the motorist who owns an ancient flivver is the proposed action to repeal the section of the headlight law affecting cars depending on magneto circuits for lights. There is a resolution before the senate now nullifying the effect of the law which has resulted in many arrests throughout the state by Motor Vehicle division traffic inspectors.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Jan. 22.—This city now offers 700 acres as a site for the U. of C. Southern Branch, and every member of the site committee of that institution has been apprised of the fact, states Manager J. W. Charleville of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee has been invited to visit Burbank again and look over the site under more favorable climatic conditions.

Because of the fact that it rained the day the committee previously visited this city, certain interests are understood to be attempting to depreciate the location. To counteract this adverse propaganda, according to Mr. Charleville, a number of citizens who have lived here more than five years have sent out letters to back up the weather bureau's official records showing that the weather in the locality of the proposed site is ideal.

Having been successful in removing all obstacles in the way of their offer of a site, the committee feels more certain than ever that Burbank has the best site now before the committee and the chances of success are considered as greatly enhanced.

Rhondda Welsh Male Singers Are Artists

Each of the sixteen singers in the Rhondda Welsh male chorus is a soloist of exceptional ability, according to A. L. Baird, chairman of the committee from the Glendale Kiwanis club under whose auspices the group will be heard in a concert at the Broadway High school, Monday night, January 26.

Part songs, solos, duets, quartets and ensembles will be given, under the direction of Professor Tom Morgan, with Professor Emlyn as accompanist. Excellent voices and a well-chosen program will combine to provide a night of rare musical entertainment, and Mr. Baird urges that tickets be obtained without delay, from any Kiwanian or from the Roberts & Echols drug store, the D. L. Gregg Hardware Co., Glendale Phonograph Co. or Valley Mortgage & Finance Co.

The Rhondda Welsh male chorus has been heard in many parts of the world, and critics everywhere have hailed the talent of its personnel as of the very highest order.

ARTISTS TO OFFER RECITAL PROGRAM

Final Number Of Series To Be Presented Tuesday
By Henry Kuhnle

Henry Kuhnle, talented Glendale pianist, will be heard Tuesday night, January 27, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse in the last of a series of three complimentary recitals given upon his return from foreign study and travel.

With the exception of two numbers, the program for the final recital has been chosen by patrons of these recitals. Mr. Kuhnle sent out slips bearing his repertoire and asked that his many friends send in request numbers. From these requests he compiled his program.

The program will include: "Prelude and Fugue in E Flat" (Bach); "Sonata in A Major," "Theme and Variations," "Menuet" and "Alla Turca" (Mozart); "Six Little Piano Pieces Opus 19" (Schoenberg); "The Tides of Mananuan" (Cowell); "Scherzo in B Flat Minor," "Prelude in G Flat (Raindrop)," "Etude in G Flat (Black Key)" and "Polonaise Militaire" (Chopin); Menuet a la Antiqua" (Paderewski); "March Militaire" (Schubert-Tausig).

In Four Periods
For the interest of those planning to attend, Mr. Kuhnle calls attention to the fact that the program presents examples from four periods of musical development. Back from the polyphonic: Mozart from the classic; Schubert, Chopin and Paderewski from the romantic; Schoenberg and Cowell from the ultra-modern.

As many of his friends have not been reached by invitation Mr. Kuhnle announces that tickets will not be required at the door, the recital being open to all interested.

Sends News Clipping
From Argentina Here
Ruth Yoder, a recent honor student at Glendale Union High school, who is now attending Ashland college in northern Ohio, has just received from Argentina, South America, from a Miss Milice, a clipping from The Glendale Evening News giving a list of honor students at Glendale High school containing Miss Yoder's name.

Miss Yoder wrote of the incident to her uncle, Frank Yoder, 1239 East Harvard street, who cites it as proof of the wide interest in The Glendale News.

Miss Yoder's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Yoder sailed Saturday for Argentina to resume their missionary work. They represent the Progressive Brethren or Dunkards. They left their children to attend Ashland college. When in the United States on recent furlough Dr. Yoder and family spent some time in Glendale.

L. A. National Forest Has New Supervisor

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—George H. Cecil, since 1912 district forester in charge of National forests in Washington and Oregon, has been assigned as forest supervisor of the Los Angeles National forest with headquarters in Los Angeles, according to announcement by district headquarters of the Forest Service.

It is stated that 1,600,000 persons annually seek recreation in the Los Angeles forest and that the welfare of many times that number is dependent on an adequate and continuous supply of water, much of which comes from streams which head within watersheds of the Los Angeles forest. Cecil succeeds R. H. Charlton, who has been supervisor of the southern forest for twenty years, and who is to be transferred to another assignment.

Insanity Charge Sets $5000 Suit In Motion

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—Denying that he "was dangerously insane, or insane at all," Dr. G. A. Nahl, a well-known local physician, has filed suit for $5,000 damages against Elmo G. Miller, whom he charges with wilfully and unlawfully causing him to be committed to the Napa State hospital, January 31, 1923, on a charge of insanity. Nahl alleges that by reason of his commitment he was not able to bring action for redress earlier. He was restored to competency, July 10, 1924.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching
Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Menthosulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Menthosulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Rowles Menthosulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Advertisement.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Jan. 22.—Three crews under Contractor Adam Dalmatin are now laying sewers in this section of Los Angeles. Pipe has been delivered and a large trencher will soon be in operation. It is reported. Excavation, which commenced at Ellenwood drive and Avenue 45, will be carried through to Colorado boulevard and thence west. The work will be done in sections. When each section is finished, notice of completion will be filed and residents in that section will be informed that they must connect with the sewer within thirty days.

The general contract for Eagle Rock sewers covers bringing the laterals to the curb, according to Mr. Dalmatin. Property owners will have to sign separate contracts covering cost of connecting, and cesspools will be filled by property owners at their own expense. Dirt for this purpose may be obtained free from the ditch in the street, he states.

The proposed branch of Occidental college to be erected in the Santa Monica district has been given added impetus by a new plan to raise a large available sum.

A gift of the net profits from the sale of a $50-an-acre subdivision, which is expected to amount to more than $1,000,000, will be made to the college.

This was revealed this week, following the organization of a $2,000,000 realty corporation as the result of the gift of a 1,000-acre tract in the Mountain park district of Santa Monica by Alphonzo E. Bell, millionaire oil man, trustee and alumnus of the school.

riveted to the extreme ends of the frame, instead of being placed at certain distances from the ends.

They will be told why channel sections are used for the side members and cross members; why angle braces are used; why reinforcement plates are triangular in shape and flanged at the base. And by the time these classes are ready to pass on to the other chassis units they will be able to tell whether the frame on any car they see is well fitted to do its work, just by finding out what material it is made of, the weight of the car and an inspection of the frame, itself, to see how it is put together.

The next step would logically be the motor. The student in a good automobile school will first take up the study of the principles behind the internal combustion engine. He will doubtless be surprised at first to learn that all such engines are run by the expansion of heated gases, rather than by explosions.

And then he will learn why it is necessary to water-jacket the cylinders and exhaust valves, and what types of motors make possible the greatest economy in water-jacketed space—for naturally the smaller the water-jacketed area, the more economical the engine will be in fuel consumption. He will learn that valves must have a certain relation to the size of the cylinder bore—that certain materials make the best motor bearings. He will learn the theory and practice of lubrication—of drop forging—of heat treatment—of casting metals.

School's Part
From the motor the student passes to the clutch, which hooks the power up with the driving mechanism or disconnects it at the will of the operator. Next comes the transmission, the universal joints, the drive shaft, the rear axle with its marvelous differential gears and pinions, and then the less complex matters of running gear and other parts.

Good automobile schools will be a big factor in developing a better class of motor car mechanics thousands of miles away from the big automobile factory centers. They will interest more of the young man in taking up motor-car designing and building as a life work. And best of all, they will succeed in giving thousands of people, both men and women, a good insight into the things they ought to know before they purchase a motor car for their own use, and enable them to get the utmost efficiency from their cars.

The Wrath To Come

CHAPTER XXVII

"I may consider, some day," Hodson said deliberately, "that within the last few hours I have made the mistake of my life. That girl's whisper to you was probably the vital part of all that she had to tell. I honestly believe that the key to the whole conspiracy—and there is a great conspiracy—Grant, I'll tell you that—is in that casket, side by side, no doubt in affectionate communion, with that letter from old man Blunn, the present man's father, which we know he always carries with him. They'll risk a lot for sentiment, these people. I honestly believe I ought to have raided his private room with a dozen picked men, broken open his safe and casket and shot myself if I found nothing. I believe it was a fair risk. Honestly, Grant, it wasn't that I knew all the time how Cornelius Blunn would have laughed at me if the thing had been a fake, how the Press would have poked fun, and the novelists pointed to me in triumph as one who carried the skein of fancy farther even than their imaginative brains had ventured. The fact of it is, Slattery, that ridicule is a much more powerful factor in our daily lives than we are willing to acknowledge. A great many men are susceptible to ridicule who are immune to fear.

"All the same," Grant proposed a little doggedly, "give me a dozen men and a plan of campaign and I'll run the risk."

"As a last resource," Hodson declared, "it is always open to us. Personally, I have some hopes in other directions. Now, let us see whom our friend, Cornelius Blunn, is entertaining. H'm! A respectable lot but suggestive. The two great steel men, Pottin-ger, the new editor of the New York, Admiral Purvin—he's all right, but inclined to be talkative—and Doctor Sinclair Forbes, the great Jewish educationalist. A respectable party but a dash of the Teuton about most of them. A farewell party that amounted to anything would have been given in his rooms. By the way, Grant, if you speak to Blunn on the way out, don't tell him you're sailing tomorrow. I've arranged for you to be a quarter of an hour late. They'll put the gangway down for you. I'm beginning to have great faith in Blunn's organization. If he considered your presence in England likely to prove inconvenient, I think it's very doubtful whether you would reach the steamer in time. Now he's seen us. Wave your hand, Slattery. Play his game. Love your enemies on the surface. Be glad to see the people you wish were at the bottom of the sea. It's a great game as Blunn plays it. How he must hate to see us together. And yet, behold! A great honor is coming to us."

Blunn had risen to his feet, with a word of excuse to his guests, and came across the room to them. He beamed upon Grant and shook hands with Hodson cordially, reminding him of a previous meeting at Washington.

"I am giving a little farewell party," he announced. "I have decided, rather at the last moment, to accept an invitation to visit London.

"Didn't I once hear you say that you seldom visited England?" Grant queried.

"Your memory is excellent, M. Slattery," Blunn admitted. "To tell you the truth, I do so now more from a sense of duty than with the expectation of any pleasure. The whole world knows that my father hated England and, in a milder form, I have inherited his dislike. But, in these days of settled peace, what can one do? What good does it do to ourselves or to the world to keep open the old sore? I have been asked to preside at the Anniversary Dinner given to celebrate the reopening of the German banks in London. I must confess that at first I refused, but strong pressure has been brought to bear upon me. I have decided to go. Naturally my presence on such an occasion must mean the burying forever of all feelings of ill will."

"I think you are quite right," Hodson remarked.

"So do I," Grant echoed. "Your presence there will be of great significance. By the way, are you returning to the States?"

"I am not sure. My friend Lutrecht, who is coming over to represent us on the Limitation of Armaments Conference, is very anxious that I should be here, but, personally, I think it very doubtful. My affairs in Germany require my presence, and I have promised to visit Hamburg within the next few weeks. I will only say 'au revoir,' gentlemen. Mr. Slattery and I, at any rate, are citizens of the world, and we are likely to meet in most unexpected places."

He returned to his table and the two men exchanged a smile.

"Even Cornelius Blunn," Hodson murmured, "has a knack of telling the truth sometimes."

There was humor rather than tragedy in the inevitable meeting

DOBINSON PLAYERS

Have you a father who admires young and pretty girls? Have you ever desired purposely to be sick? In either case, from advance reports trickling out of the Playhouse, the Dobinson players will offer, in "Love Laughs," which opened Wednesday, the dilemma of a bachelor who wanted to be sick, and of a father who inconsiderately elopes, and of a doctor who complicates a grave situation in a terrifying yet mirthful manner.

That Glendale can boast of a stock company second to none in Southern California in the Dobinson players, was more than hinted at by a noted dramatic critic recently when he placed them on a par with the leading dramatic organizations in Los Angeles. Their thoughtful and colorful presentation of "The Hole in the Wall" re-creates an equally sensitive interpretation of "Love Laughs," written by George D. Parker.

between Cornelius Blunn and Grant on the Katalonia. On the morning after their departure, Grant, while promenading the deck, heard a feeble tapping against the glass which enclosed the small promenade of one of the magnificent private suites, for which the vessel was famous. Inside Mr. Cornelius Blunn, almost unrecognizable, swathed in rugs, with a hot-water bottle at his feet and a servant by his side, was gazing out at the world with lack-lustre eyes. Grant obeyed his summons, pushed back the sliding door, and stepped inside.

"So you are here, my young friend," Cornelius Blunn said weakly. "What does it matter? I am sick in the stomach. I do not think I shall live till we reach Southampton."

"Not so bad as that, I hope," Grant ventured.

"It is worse," Blunn groaned. "I shall not. Go away now, because I am beginning to hope I am going to be ill. I wanted to be sure that I was not already seeing ghosts. If this were only your yacht!"

Grant hurried out with a word of sympathy.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE TOMATO

"Uncle Wiggily, you are eating hardly anything at all!" said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy at the luncheon table in the hollow stump bungalow one day. "You haven't any appetite, it seems. What's the matter?"

"Oh, I don't know," answered the bunny gentleman, sort of indifferent like and casual. "Nothing seems to taste good. It isn't your fault, Nurse Jane, he was quick to say. 'You cook everything just wonderfully! But if I could have a fresh tomato now, I think it would make me feel better.'

"I have some canned tomatoes," said Nurse Jane.

"No, I want a fresh one," said the bunny. "Look here, Janie, I saved some tomato seeds from my garden last year. Now if I planted a tomato seed, wouldn't a tomato vine grow up and wouldn't it have fresh tomatoes on it?"

"It would if this were summer," answered the muskrat lady, "or if we lived down south with B'rrer Rabbit and the Tar Baby. But it is cold here—too cold to grow tomato vines out of doors."

"Then what about growing a tomato vine here in my bungalow?" asked Mr. Longears. "It is warm here and the sun shines in the south window. I'm going to plant some tomato seeds in a box and grow me a fresh tomato. Then I'll have a good appetite and my pink nose will twinkle as brightly as ever."

"I'm afraid it will take a long while to grow a tomato in the bungalow," said Nurse Jane.

But Uncle Wiggily had made up his mind he was going to have a tomato, even if it was winter. So he found a box, dug some frozen earth from his garden, let the earth thaw and get mellow behind the stove, and then the bunny planted a tomato seed.

He set the box of earth, with the seed in it, near a sunny window. Each day Uncle Wiggily sprinkled water on the earth. Each day the sun warmed it, and in about a week up came a tiny green shoot.

"Ha! Tomato vine, I salute thee!" cried the bunny, moving picture like and formal. "Now, in another week I can pick a ripe tomato, and I shall be happy."

But it was longer than that before even a tiny blossom appeared, and longer still before a tiny green tomato began to grow. However, the bunny was not discouraged.

"Hurry up and grow, little green tomato," he said, talking to the plant in the box. "Grow bigger and bigger. Turn red like a rose, and then I can eat you. Now, the tomato could hear and understand, even if it could not talk. And the tomato loved Uncle Wiggily.

"I will try to grow big and red for my kind bunny friend," said the tomato to itself. "I want to give him pleasure."

Day by day the tomato grew, but still it was hardly large enough to pick and eat, and it had scarcely begun to turn red.

"Why don't you grow faster?" cried Uncle Wiggily.

That night the tomato, in the warm kitchen, made up its mind it would try and swell itself out big so Uncle Wiggily could eat it. Already it was beginning to turn red.

"I must puff, puff, puff up big!" cried the tomato. Taking a long breath it swelled. Larger—larger—larger it grew, and then, all of a sudden—it burst! All over the kitchen was scattered red tomato juice and yellow seeds. And when Uncle Wiggily came down in the morning, all that was left of his tomato plant was the drooping vine with a bit of red skin clinging to it. The poor tomato no longer lived. It had died trying to do its duty.

"Poor tomato," said the bunny, softly. "You did your best! I shall never raise another! I'll wait until summer comes, when things don't have to be so forced." Then he ate a dried carrot and felt better.

So this teaches us that we should have a kind smile for even a cross-word puzzle. And if the fountain pen doesn't pull the sheet of paper over its head and think it's in bed, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's icicle tea.

"Just Rub It On"

Mothers who have precious little lives in their keeping realize the danger to delicate stomachs of so much dosing.

That is why so many millions of mothers now depend entirely upon Vicks for croup and children's colds.

There is nothing to swallow—you just rub Vicks over throat and chest at bedtime and cover with a warm flannel, leaving the bedclothes loose about the neck so that the arising vapors may be freely inhaled. The child is usually better next morning.

Vicks can be used freely and often with perfect safety, even on the youngest member of the family.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

My Dear Followers:—Since I have been running the reducing series requests for information on other subjects have had to be laid aside.

Of course I cannot possibly answer all of the numerous letters I receive, and as I cannot answer you personally, some of you are going to be disappointed. Even though your question is of general interest and I can consider it in the column the day I get it, it will be at least three weeks before it appears in your newspaper.

I answer the letters in turn, so it may be much longer than three weeks before you see your answer. I try to choose those which will benefit the largest number. As many of you ask similar questions, please consider yourselves answered when you read an answer to a question that is like yours.

I had a pathetic letter from one of the followers last week, stating that she had written me that she had lost fifty pounds and had thirty more to lose, but she did not seem to have the will power to carry on. Because she did not see her answer she thought I was disgusted with her, and she was unhappy. I answered her personally, immediately, for I cannot bear to think I have made anyone unhappy. In the second letter she stated that she had finally gone back to her little 1200 and was reducing again.

Today I was going back to the Answers-to-Correspondents, and the first letter is one that will encourage the new reducing class. It is a letter I received some time ago from one of the last year's class.

I always have one reducing letter in each Answers-to-Correspondents' page because these letters are the means of getting new converts, and there is nothing I can do in public health of more importance than teach folks how to attain and maintain normal diet.

"Dear Dr. Peters:—Praise enough cannot be given you for the abundance of good you have given us through your reducing instructions. I weighed 190 pounds when I started to follow them, and now I weigh 140. "I lost the fifty pounds in nine months. I have lost, with the fifty

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

THE BEAUTY PARLOR

First of all, I wonder why they call it a "parlor." It isn't a parlor word, it suggests a gloomy room with fancy gilt wallpaper and too many clocks and gold chairs that tip over if you look at them—a stiff place from which "company" would flee. Our parlors, fortunately, are now becoming living rooms, and our mode of life and of hospitality has changed, too.

Beauty "parlors" are becoming beauty "shops," an equally desirable change. The places where once you sat uncomfortably while odd things were done to you with curling tongs and sticky skin pastes, by tight-waisted women attendants, have become cleverly-decorated little shops, where either service or bottled lotions are dispensed.

Yet some of the "shops" are very funny. As a matter of business, I go into many of them, in to everyone that looks as though it would show me anything new or useful. Invariably the young girls who work there are over-painted, perhaps because they are so surrounded by rouge and powder that they can't see it on their skins until it is as deep a tint as it is in the boxes. Almost always they call me "dearie." Now why must a young attendant, to show her sense of friendliness, address an utter stranger by the term of endearment? I've watched other customers; they all get it, all but the white-haired middle-aged women.

In the very expensive places, "dearie" has become "madam." But in America we have forgotten how to say "madam" naturally, though our mothers knew how as children when they addressed grown-ups. Often it's "bada-bada," these days, for the child-like, sleeveless young things have colds that their heads the winter long. Often "madam" is offensively servile—or exaggerated—always it's unnatural.

As for the things they force one to buy! But that's another story.

Della Robbia: Dark circles around the eyes come from internal causes, so you cannot eliminate them by using ointments or by using other local treatments. Consult your physician.

Minnie & Mollie: As the present tendency in hair dressing is to make the head look trig, and whenever possible simulate a sculptured profile, there is no reason for roughing your hair to build it around your face.

Robert S. C.: I will be glad to send you the pilocarpine hair tonic formula if you forward a stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing.

Discouraged: It will help your nails if you massage a cream into them every night before retiring. Whenever the ridges are very rough go over the nail surface with a fine emery board or a little powdered pumice, and then polish well with the buffer to smooth.

Tomorrow—Luxurious Baths

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

UNFRINGED LAMP SHADES

of some soft color, shirred on, and the edging either matched or harmonized with the georgette.

1. A length of old-fashioned picot-edged, watered-silk ribbon, an inch wide, had been used at the bottom of the shade. It was sewed to the shirred georgette covering, but extended one-half inch below it. It was put on plain, not gathered.

2. A fancy tapestry ribbon, two inches wide, had been used very much as the picot-edged ribbon described above, except that in this case the ribbon hung down an inch below the frame and its lower edge was wired to hold it taut. This ribbon edging was also straight, not gathered.

3. Heavy, inch-wide cord, insertion with rather large holes, was sewed onto black velvet ribbon of the same width and then dropped below the shade, making a straight band completely around it. Its own weight held it taut without wiring.

4. A bedroom lamp shade had a ruffle of georgette, hanging below the shirred georgette frame-covering and matching the shirred part.

Mrs. Anna M. L. Morrison of 227 West Colorado street is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. E. B. Hooker has moved from 702 East Maple street to 710 1/2 South Glendale avenue.

A. Arnold of 1601 South Glendale avenue has moved to 432 Montrose avenue, Montrose and will keep in touch with his Glendale friends through the columns of the Glendale Evening News.

Hugh McKenzie of San Francisco left last night after visiting in Southern California for several days. Mr. McKenzie is a friend of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Neil of 360 West Colorado street and has been entertained by them while he was in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rutchcross of Medford, Iowa, spent Tuesday visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton at 801 East Wilson avenue. They are former eastern friends of the Norton family and are spending the winter in California.

Mrs. C. R. Norton of 801 East Wilson avenue and her son, M. E. Norton of 532 North Glendale avenue, left yesterday morning for Pomona where Mrs. Norton will spend several days visiting in the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Taylor. Mrs. Norton also plans to visit at Upland.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Durst of Alhambra, Illinois, have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bolton of 1327 East Broadway. They are spending the winter in California and are now visiting in Los Angeles with a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. S. Foults, of Eagle Rock spent Monday as guests in the Bolton home.

WELSH CHORUS AT LUNCH CLUB MEET

'Preview' Recital Given By Singers Before Record Attendance of 150

One hundred and fifty business and professional men and women of Glendale, members of the Greater Glendale Luncheon club and the Glendale Kiwanis club heard the Rhonda Welsh male chorus in a "preview" presentation at the Masonic temple today at noon. The singers were the main attraction on the program for the week-long dining of the Luncheon club. They were presented through the Kiwanis club which sponsors a public appearance of the singers at the Broadway High school auditorium Monday night. The Welsh chorists sang "March of the Men of Harlech" in Welsh; "The Mulligan Musketeers," and "In Absence." They were enthusiastically received.

Chairman George F. Orgibet turned the gavel over to President Frank L. Fox of the Kiwanis club. The singers were introduced by Lon Baird, past president of Kiwanis who had charge of the program.

Business Schedule

An invitation to attend the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley at Burbank next Tuesday night was extended by Chairman Orgibet. The meeting will be under the auspices of manufacturers of the lower valley who will present samples of their products to all those attending. It was also announced that Burbank and Glendale manufacturers will have charge of the Chamber of commerce luncheon on February 19.

The performance of "Hello Dearie" by Glendale chapter, De Moly was announced. Lyman P. Clark told of the forthcoming Glendale auto show. The attendance prize, an electric lamp, offered by the J. A. Newton Electric Co., was won by Mr. Orgibet.

The lower edge of this three-inch-wide ruffle had been finished with a picot. Its gathering thread at the top was covered with narrow gold braid.

5. An inch-wide strip of silk which matched the shirred georgette covering had been pinked at the lower edge and then gathered onto the frame edge. This hung below the shade perhaps an inch. Its gathering thread was covered with a gold cord.

6. Gold braids of all sorts, both wide and narrow, were used on various shades, not dropping below the shirred frame-covering, but at the shade-bottom.

7. Silk-covered cotton cording but merely providing a neat finish also edged many shades, sometimes in three rows, sometimes in two, and here and there in only one.

8. But the prettiest shade edging I saw was one of sheer gold insertion (like shadow lace) two inches deep, which hung below the shade and was wired at the bottom to hold it taut. Four two-inch-wide pieces of wire were run across it at equal intervals, for added firmness.

Tomorrow—Chafing Dish Recipes

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Club Book Chat

A book chat was enjoyed yesterday afternoon by members of the Literature department of Tuesday Afternoon club meeting at the clubhouse. Each one present was asked to answer roll call by giving the name of a new book or the name of some book she particularly enjoyed. These books furnished interesting material for the book-chat hour. Later Mrs. R. W. Bolton, curator, gave a review of Edna Ferber's popular book, "So Big." Special features were the doll dance given by little Edna Harvey, pupil of Edith Lind-say, accompanied by Avis Young, piano pupil of Lillian Smits. Mesdames H. C. Garlinghouse and Ralph Hickert were hostesses. Mrs. Herbert Carr, chairman of literature, was in charge of the book chat.

Members of the Literature department are to have a special luncheon in her honor. Members of the department are invited to attend the meeting of the Parliamentary Law department next Monday afternoon. DR. OTEY SAYS

Come to Our Thursday Night Lectures

You will hear some interesting things about the human body, the most wonderful, the most complex and intricate piece of mechanism in the world, yet the simplest to operate if it understood.

If you understand your automobile you can get more miles to the gallon, better performance, more dependable service and longer life for that car. It is equally true that if you understand the laws governing the construction and operation of the human body it will mean to you better health, longer life and physical and mental vigor, more abundant.

TONIGHT and every Thursday night, 8 o'clock. COME, bring a friend.

Our reception room will seat about 100 people, you will be welcome and comfortable.

MANY VISIT NEW FUNERAL PARLORS

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Phillips
Hold Formal Opening;
Receive Flowers

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Phillips received visits from over 200 residents of Glendale and nearby cities yesterday during the hours of the formal opening of their funeral home at 137 North Orange street, indicative of the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Phillips are held in Glendale and community were the countless baskets of beautiful flowers, many potted plants and ferns and the messages of congratulation received during the day and evening.

Over 200 persons visited the funeral home and were shown through the artistically furnished and modernly equipped building. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have asked The Glendale Evening News to voice their heartfelt appreciation for the honors bestowed upon them by their many friends and business associates.

month. His introduction of these bills and his close association with the reapportionment issue, which the Los Angeles caucus decided would be fought out in the Senate, endangers the success of the latter more than any one thing.

San Francisco representatives will solidly vote against reapportionment giving more power to Los Angeles with interests inimical to union labor, who in turn have a very sympathetic ear for the Inyo ranchers. In the meantime Glendale and Long Beach and other rapidly growing sections will have to do without proper representation through no fault of their own.

No Change In City

In order to divert attention from the real facts, one Los Angeles newspaper has been representing to its readers that reapportionment has literally been killed by hasty action on the part of Assemblyman Thomas L. Dodge. In the words of a senator, "he was presumptuous"—perhaps. Also, he is a candidate for mayor, but this writer predicts the negative publicity given Dodge will do him more good than harm.

Reapportionment really is becoming perfunctory, with the pet jealousies of newspaper publishers, and political groups and personalities paramount to a sensible solution of the redistricting question.

Glendale is well represented by Assemblyman Frank C. Weller. A change in district lines likely would not affect your particular community, the writer believes. While the legislature is not complying with the constitutional mandate there is no need of crying over Los Angeles' spilled milk.

Complaint has been made in Edinburgh, Scotland, that during the overture of a comic opera, members of the audience talked so loud that the music could not be heard.

VALLEY PIONEER CALLED BY DEATH

Francisco Verdugo, Born on Old San Rafael Rancho, Was 65 Years Old

Francisco Verdugo, born on the San Rafael rancho, in the hills back of Glendale, sixty-five years ago, the son of one of the earliest settlers in the San Fernando valley, died at his home on the old Verdugo family ranch last night, Wednesday, January 21, 1925, at 11 o'clock.

During his entire life, the son of the early Spanish don lived in the valley of his birth, where he spent early youth and grew to manhood, many years before even a sheep ranch or orange grove marked the location of Glendale of today.

At the time of his birth, the Verdugo family owned all the land in this part of the valley, known then as the great San Rafael rancho. The Verdugo ranch, of which Glendale is a part, was originally only a portion of the San Rafael rancho.

Francisco Verdugo is survived by his mother, Maria A. C. de Verdugo, now over the century mark of life; also by four brothers, John, Rafael, Fred and Charles Verdugo; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Romero and Mrs. Dora Vullock, and two daughters, Isabel and Agoria Verdugo. All these relatives reside in this vicinity. Funeral services for the early pioneer have not as yet been announced, according to L. G. Scovorn Co., in charge of arrangements. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery, Los Angeles.

COUNCIL ORDERS ROAD WIDENING

San Fernando Highway to Be Improved Whole Length, Is Plan

An ordinance ordering the widening of San Fernando road the entire length was passed by the City Council today.

The council was informed by City Manager Virgil B. Stone that this city will not have to build the by-pass connecting the Glendale outfall sewer with the main Los Angeles line, thus effecting a saving to the city of $21,000. Order to omit the by-pass was given by the Board of Public Works of Los Angeles.

LOCAL CLUB AIDS FIRE RADIO FUND

Advancement Association Members Donate $18 to Evening News Fund

Members of the Glendale Advancement association, at the meeting held today noon at the Harriet Mae tea room, donated $18 to the fund being collected by The Glendale Evening News for the installing of a radio receiving outfit for the city firemen who find time heavy on their hands between fire calls. Donors to the fund expressed gratitude of The Glendale Evening News in starting such a movement, and spoke of the plan as one that deserved the serious consideration and help of all Glendale residents.

The association adopted a resolution recommending to the City Planning commission that the petition for an industrial zone, presented by the Calla Lily Creamery Co. be denied. S. C. Kinch, in speaking on the resolution, said his suggestion was that the residents of that vicinity should meet the cost the concern would be to in moving to another location.

Change Meetings

Elwood Ingledue said there were 233 homes on the four streets near the creamery plant, and that values had declined on account of the industry being located in a residential section. J. F. Chandler said that the company promised to move when the tract was opened.

Herman Nelson announced the program to be given Monday night at the Broadway High school by the Rhonda Welsh Male singers under the auspices of the Kiwanis club. Mrs. M. L. Tigh, in reporting on plans to widen North Glendale avenue, said the plans had been prepared by the city engineer, J. F. McClish, reporting on widening and opening South Glendale avenue, told of topics discussed last night at the meeting in Hollywood.

On motion of Mrs. M. L. Tigh, the meeting date was changed from Thursday noons, to Tuesday noons, in order to permit members of the association to attend the Chamber of Commerce luncheon meetings.

Move Made to Halt Insanity Plea As Ally

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—Legislation to deter criminals from pleading insanity and gaining freedom within a few months after being confined in state institutions was advocated today by Justice E. C. Hart of the third appellate court in addressing the annual convention of state fire chiefs, in session here.

Fire Chief Scott of Los Angeles complained that the release of pyromaniacs after a short term of imprisonment constituted a continuous menace to life and property.

Justice Hart scored the present law under which alienists are employed by criminals to confuse juries by highly technical testimony regarding insanity. Decision to support a bill providing for a special institution to house these classes of criminals was reached unanimously by the assembled fire chiefs.

SPORTS

DYNAMITERS AND TIGERS TO MEET

Heavyweights Will Invade South Pasadena Court Tomorrow Night

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.
Coach "Apollo" Pierce's Glendale heavyweight hardwood crew hooks up tomorrow afternoon in another tough tilt when it meets the South Pasadena Tigers, who have quite a reputation for clawing up basketball teams in this neck of the woods, at South Pasadena at 3:30 o'clock.

The Glendale five which met defeat last Friday at the hands of Alhambra is out to make up for lost time tomorrow, and it will be by no means as lop-sided a game as that of last week. The Dynamiters have a good team but were handicapped only by lack of experience on the floor, the prolonged football season being responsible for this. The Moors, who specialize in basketball, when they fail to cop the grid banner, have been under way for two or three months and will without doubt win the pennant unless something unforeseen pops up.

Francis Hardy, captain and forward, will lead the Glendale attack tomorrow with probably Bud Elliott as the other forward.

"Hull" Jensen will most likely start at center, with Denney and Zain as guards. Harbor Beaman, Roland Hodder, Louis Dotson, Bill Bradbury, and Porter Thompson will also get into the game.

The following is the South Pasadena lineup: Forwards, Uynior and Ausu, center, Ainsu, and guards, A. Supic and J. Supic.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP BY FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—They say that Johnny Wilson is really handling Jack Delaney and is conducting him toward the middleweight title. Down underneath the surface one hears talk that when Johnny was champion he believed that the one man who could beat him was Delaney. That shows what he thinks of the man who flopped Flowers.

Wilson was lured into the Greb match because Greb agreed to let him take $50,000 while Harry himself was content with not more than $2,000, plus his chance at the title. Wilson believed he could stop Greb with his body punches, but he was wrong and lost his crown.

Now, according to the stories Wilson will steer Delaney against Greb for revenge. Greb is not the fighter he once was and Delaney, who is a sharp shooter, will be likely to beat him and take the title.

But when Berlenbach and the French Canadian meet it will be another story. Paul should never have been steered against Delaney at the time the two met. He had had only seven or eight bouts and lacked experience. Now it is a different story. Berlenbach knows a lot and besides his wisdom and his punching ability he is at heart a real fighter, which Delaney is not. But Paul cannot win the middleweight crown by beating Delaney or Greb, because he is taking on weight and cannot now do himself justice at lower than 167 pounds.

To see Delaney stop away Berlenbach and Flowers makes the ordinary ring follower wonder how he comes to sandwich in such rank bouts as the ones he turned in against Pal Reed and Jackie Clark. The trouble has been that Delaney has been a front runner, good when ahead but not good when things are not breaking right. His knockout of Flowers may change all this.

Plan Racing Meet at Reno Starting July 1

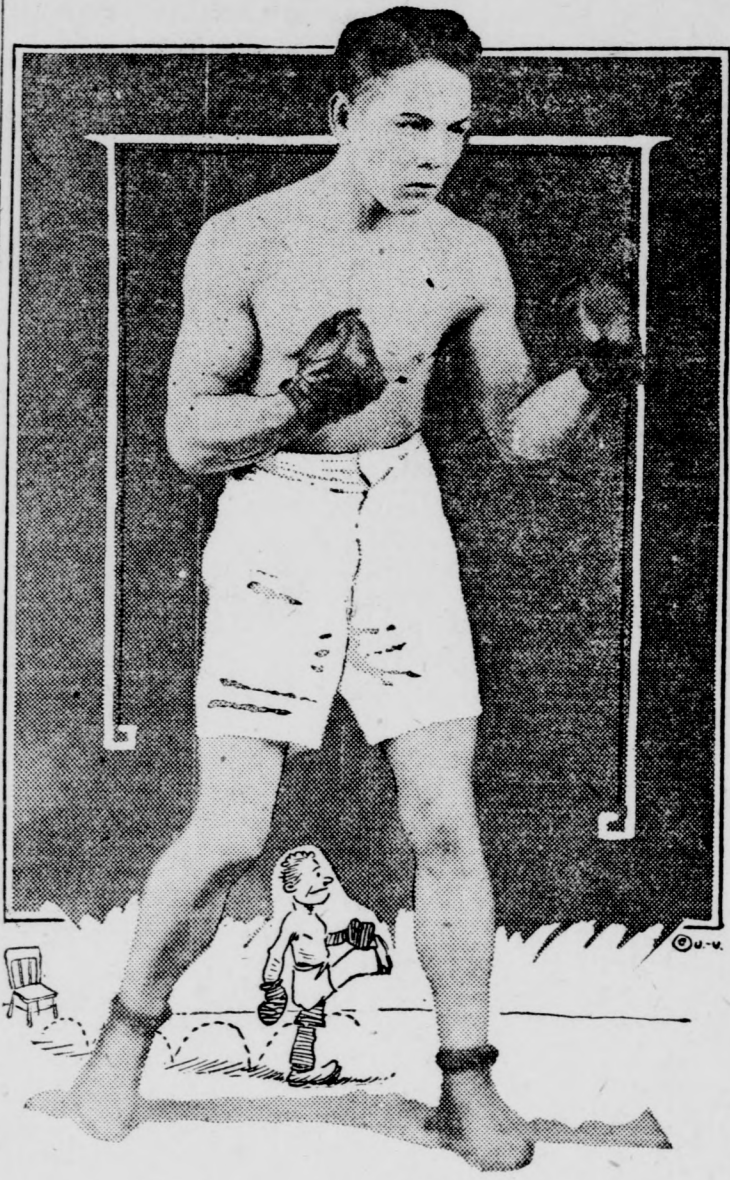

RENO, Nev., Jan. 22.—The "sport of kings" will stage a come-back in Nevada this year, it was announced here today. The Silver State jockey club announced it would conduct a meeting starting the first of July and lasting 21 days. Last year the race meeting here was postponed because of the hoof and mouth disease epidemic in California, preventing the shipment of horses to the Reno track.

Salt Lake Club Guide To Have Lane Leader

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 22.—H. William Lane will be the guiding genius of the much-heralded Salt Lake baseball club, at least for the season of 1925. This was the word given out today by the Salt Lake mining man, following a conference here with the "mysterious syndicate" that has been dickering for the purchase of the Bees for some time.

Has Developed Goose Punch

WILLIAM DRAKE has laid aside the goose step he learned in Germany and has replaced it with the goose punch he intends to use against some of the best scrappers in his class during his invasion of American ring circles. He is a lightweight.

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Written for The Evening News
William Drake, of Germany, who did his roadwork in "Unter den Linden" and use a beer barrel for a punching bag, is now in the land of prohibition agents and the free to seek his fame in the ring.

Drake is real belligerent. He says, however, that his "goose" punch has it all over the goose step for effectiveness in quieting the opposition. He points to the late World war to show the weakness in the latter.

He seems destined, however, to make the same mistake that Kaiser Wilhelm did—that of taking in too much territory. For he has already announced that he is confident he can lick any of the lightweights of the United States up to and including the well known Benjamin Actor Leonard.

Some little assignment. Drake bears the reputation, according to word from Berlin, of being a heavy hitter and fairly clever. He looks rugged enough. If he knows how to use his hands he should win considerable attention and money even should he fail to climb high enough to talk business with Leonard.

One of the men Drake might meet is Sid Terris, right now the outstanding aspirant for Leonard's crown. Terris is a willing fighter and to date isn't naming his opponents.

BOWLING SCORES

Boxing Commission Is Asked To Favor Legion

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—Alleging that "certain posts of the American Legion have applied for permits and it appears that said requests for boxing permits have been denied." Assemblyman George C. Cleveland, of Watsonville today introduced an Assembly resolution signed by more than a score of solon veterans requesting the state athletic commission to show preference to American Legion posts and other veteran organizations instead of individuals.

BASEBALL

With Van Nuys holding on to the top round of the San Fernando Valley league, Lankershim a close second and Burbank and Zelzah tied for third place, several hot battles are expected in the league on Sunday. Zelzah will attempt to dislodge Van Nuys at Van Nuys, Lankershim goes to San Fernando, and Owensmouth will play at Burbank.

In preparation for the deciding battle Sunday, Les Taylor has Dennis O'Connell, stellar hurler from Great Falls, Mont., to mound duty. Zelzah will use Ken Parker, already signed to hurl with Evansville next season, to oppose O'Connell.

Burbank should have no trouble defeating Owensmouth, tallenders in the league with only one victory and ten losses. Burbank has eight victories and four defeats for the present season, a mark also held by Zelzah. Lankershim should further complicate the race by winning from San Fernando, and Manager Massocotti is counting on his team going into a tie with Van Nuys, by fighting that Zelzah will be victorious.

BASKETBALL RESULTS

A handful of basketball fans witnessed the fastest game played in Glendale this season when they saw the "Hull Trucks" defeat the Standard Oils 29 to 21 last night at the Harvard High gym. The score stood 16 to 12 in favor of the Trucks at the end of the first half, and only four points separated the two teams until the last few minutes of play when the Truckmen clinched the game by spectacular shooting. Coach Eugene Wolfe handled the whistle last night. The lineup:

Hull Trucks—29 Standard Oil—21
Bell (11) Ketchum (12)
Farnet (11) H. Staff (7)
Griffith (6) C. Isenhouer (9)
Wilson (10) T. Schenck (8)
Wilde (1) L. Berryman (4)

Tonight's battle will be between the Calla Lily Creamery team and the Methodist Episcopal church hoopers. The milkmen are favored to win. The game will mark the end of the first week in the City league.

Tomorrow afternoon the Glendale High school heavyweights will journey to South Pasadena to meet the Tigers in the second Central League game of the season. The Dynamiters were defeated last week by Alhambra, 29 to 10, and are out to put up a strong battle against the Tigers tomorrow.

'Slip' Madigan Expects To Renew Grid Office

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 22.—"Slip" Madigan, sought by several Pacific coast colleges as football coach, will confer today with St. Mary's college authorities here, planning, it was believed, to renew his contract, which expires April 1.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Edward S. Farrell, captain of the University of Penn baseball team of 1925, is on the reserve list of the New York Giants. So, too, is Tunney of the Holy Cross nine. That settles where these two very promising youngsters are going.

Howard Perry, the former star athlete of Penna is said to be the college scout who landed Farrell. The Penn captain is a very promising shortstop. He is one of the fastest infielders in college baseball and there are experienced men who are predicting that he will prove more alert and a better ground coverer, if anything, than Frank Frisch. If he can play as well as that, he is bound to be one of the big guns of the National league. His name is an asset, as all the Farrells who ever got into the game have made good.

College men are bringing up the point that the reservation of Farrell by the Giants makes a "pro" out of him. It is a delicate question whether the pledging of a ball player to sign with a professional club at a future date deprives him of his amateur standing. Some colleges have held that it does. Inward, for instance, withdrew Walter Clarkson, the pitcher, from college competition when it was learned that he had made arrangements to go with the Yanks. In the old days, if it was learned definitely that a college man was to go into professional baseball, it was held that he had become a pro upon acceptance of the professional offer.

It formerly was the custom to sign college players to agreements to enter professional baseball after their graduation and then keep the agreement a secret, thus preserving the player's status in the eyes of the college authorities. This has not been done in Farrell's case and it remains to be seen what the result of open diplomacy will be.

The Phillies were very anxious to get Farrell, but when they made overtures to him they found he had pledged himself to New York and it is evident the Giants are not going to take any chances on losing him because they have placed his name on the reserve list which is equivalent to claiming him.

Tunney of the Holy Cross team is a good hitter and fielder and is pretty sure to make a fair showing with the New York club if he can hold the pace he set at college. He was a member among the undefeated Holy Cross team, and there were plenty of scouts after him although the Giants again got the inside track.

Owen Carroll, the Holy Cross pitcher, now on Detroit's list of ineligible players because he signed an agreement to go with Detroit two years ago and has not reported. By placing his name on the ineligible list, the Detroit team has prevented any move by any other club to get the player. Carroll must play with the Tigers or stay out of organized baseball altogether.

When we speak of authors we do not include scenario writers, who are "parrots" not authors. All one needs to be a success as a scenario writer is a single-track mind, minus original ideas, plus all the essentials of a willing "yes guy."

A real author would fail dismally as a scenario writer for the screen. A scenario writer for the screen corresponds to a playwright for the stage, the two as widely different species as the bug and elephant tribes. One builds up, the other tears down.

An author has imagination. Imagination is poisonous to the scenario writer. Scenario writer is supposed to even give birth to an idea—least of all an original idea. In proof whereas we respectively submit nine out of ten of the photodramas flashed on the screen today.

A playwright creates; a scenario writer parrots what already the author has created and generally parrots it wrongly. If the author hasn't sufficient sense of "art in the fillums" to insert a bedroom scene or a cabaret scene in his writing, the scenario writer does it for him. He has a lot of "em ready."

If author has so little understanding of human nature and every-day life as to forget that even a poor shop girl always is menaced by a mustached villain and that she always ascends to leader of the highest social set and weds Mr. Wanderbilt's millions, his "ignorance" is simply laughed off by scenario writer who never expects an author to know as much about life as he, the scenario writer.

Eugene O'Neill and all these other authors and playwrights who have been making dramatic history despite the fact they don't appreciate art in the fillums" are rank amateurs in the eyes of Hollywood scenarists.

Life to the scenario writer is one, long, grand round of cabarets and romances, in his specious Grecian gardens and around moonlit swimming plunges. Scenario writer laughs at tragedy, especially when tragedy butts in and interferes with single-track idea of the final, happy and inevitable climax.

Scenario writer is educated to believe that a quarrel that lasts is unknown between lovers. They bring them together in that final reel, clinch and fade-out if it costs the biggest dramatic punch ever put into a story by man or beast.

Scenario writer can't even let the poor lovers accept the benefits of the divorce courts. Courts divorce 'em any number of times but no such trivial tribunal as a divorce court is going to tell Mr. Scenario writer that the final clinch "ain't goin' reign no more." No-siree. Imagine a poor, inexperienced human like a mere jurist who hasn't heard life as "she gam spoke in the fillums."

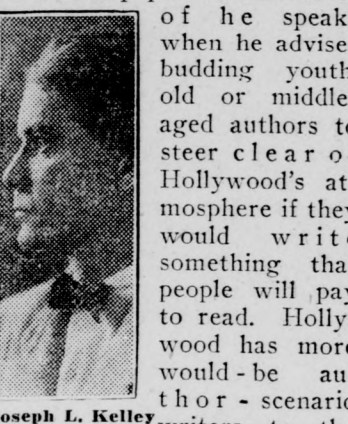

Imagine, if you can, any one with an idea, telling Mr. Scenario Writer he's wrong. He knows "art in the fillums"; he knows that bare legs were made before long skirts and all that sort of thing. Try and tell him he's wrong by giving him an idea.

What do you suppose, would have happened to Charlie Chaplin's "Woman of Paris" had Charlie been crazy enough to call in Mr. Scenario Writer to write in one of his old gags and tell Charlie where he was all wrong in not showing Adolphe Menjou as the villain turning the key in his lady's boudoir?

Charlie had the scenario writer's number long ago. He's wise. He does his own scripts when he uses one. As a general thing Charlie works without a script and turns out pretty good pictures in spite of the of he speaks when he advises budding youth, old or middle-aged authors to steer clear of Hollywood's atmosphere if they would write something that people will pay to read. Hollywood has more would-be authors than it has motion picture "extras." It also has a lot of real authors. But the kind that Mr. Carr rightfully puts on the pan predominate in numbers and always in influence. They do everything but write. Holding down street corners, beating the haberdasher out of a hat sale, airing their opinions, are chief among their diversions. An idea is fatal to their progress.

NURMI SETS MORE RECORDS IN RACE

Shatters Ten Marks Since Arriving In America; Ten Were His Own

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The breaking of Kolehmainen's records for 2 1-4 and 2 3-4 miles by Paavo Nurmi at Newark last night brought the great Finn's total of new records established in this country to an even ten since he began competition here about three weeks ago. Nurmi stepped the 2 1/4 mile distance in 10:42 and the longer route in 13:03. His remaining record performances in America follow:

For 1500 meters, 3:56; mile 4:13 3-5; 5000 meters, 14:44 3-5; mile and three quarters, 7:55 2-5; 3,000 meters, 8:26 4-5; mile and seven eighths, 8:29; 2,000 meters, 5:32; 1 1/2 miles, 7:55 2-5.

Nurmi beat his previous 1 1/2 mile record.

absence of either script or scenario writer.
You can count all the real "idea" scenario writers on the fingers of one hand, working today in the picture's interest. Francis Marion is one. John Mathis is another. Tony Kelly another. Tony hasn't been heard from because he had too many ideas for Hollywood.

Tony Kelly, without a doubt, is the best constructive scenario writer who ever turned out a working continuity for the screen. Tony, you will remember, wrote one of the biggest dramatic hits produced during the war (stage drama), "Three Faces East."

It was Tony who did the continuity for Griffith's "War Down East" and coined way back, the continuity for the screen version of Rex Beach's "The Barrier," in which Mitchell Lewis gave his unforgettable characterization of the half-breed.

Another scenario writer who has done good work is Percy Heath. If we remember rightly Percy did the script for F. Scott Fitzgerald's "Head Over Shoulders," which Metro's "wise heads" changed to the idiotic "The Chorus Girl's Romance."

Put more of this brand of scenario writers into Hollywood studios and the public would see a far different brand of picture drama.

Hollywood Rumors Indicate
Reconciliation in Hart
Family Expected

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—
 Winifred Westover and her famous cowboy-actor husband, William S. Hart, who have been estranged since May, 1922, may yet be reconciled, according to rumors afloat in Hollywood today.

These rumors came on the heels of Mrs. Hart's court victory here last week, when she was allowed to abrogate a portion of the separation agreement she had with Hart and re-enter the films under the name of Mrs. William S. Hart.

Persons who are purported to be familiar with the Harts claim that Mrs. Hart's denial from the witness stand during the agreement trial that her husband had ever beaten her, and consideration of their little boy, William S.
 Hart, Jr., 2½ years old, are contributing factors that may lead both to forgive and forget, and start all over again.

Hart En Route East
 Hart was not in Los Angeles today, having departed two days ago on a trip to New York. However, before leaving, he is said to have instructed his attorneys to take an appeal to Mrs. Hart's court victory.

It is known that neither the actor nor his wife have ever considered divorce proceedings, and persons claiming to be close to
 Mrs. Hart assert that several times she has tried to effect a reconciliation. And to these same friends Mrs. Hart is said to have declared that she is ready for a reconciliation whenever her husband desires.

EISTEDDFOD HAS CONTEST MEETING

Teachers Gather In Glendale
Decide on Material for Piano Department

Twenty-five piano teachers of Glendale, Burbank, Eagle Rock and other cities of the district met in this city yesterday, when plans and contest material for entrance in the piano department, Glendale district Eisteddfod, were determined. The session was in charge of Mrs. M. O. Sparrow, of Burbank, chairman of the piano department of the Eisteddfod, and by R. Ernest Tucker, superintendent of recreation and director of the Glendale Community Service, which organization is sponsoring the Eisteddfod movement in this district.

Final rules for piano contests, which will occur during the week of April 13 to 18 in conjunction with contests in other music departments and in art and drama, were based on general rules made by the main piano department of the Eisteddfod, which embraces a large number of districts in Southern California.

In choosing compositions consideration was given to the following points: Representative American compositions; California composers; and numbers which all should know and which may be obtained easily. The judgment of leading teachers and musicians of the south was secured in this work.

Adjudication, to rest with judges from outside the district, will be made on the following points: Accuracy of notation, rhythm and memory, tone and technique, interpretation, phrasing, tempo, pedal. A percentage scale of thirty, twenty-five, thirty and fifteen, respectively, will be used. Contestants are divided into four classes, one for children under eight years of age; one for those under twelve; another for those under sixteen, and the fourth open to any senior or adult. If the work of a contestant permits, he may enter the class immediately above upon permission of the committee. Entry blanks may be secured from the Community service office, 150 South Brand boulevard, Glendale. A registration fee of fifty cents must be made when the blank is filed. A required selection and three numbers from which he must be chosen, have been arranged for each class. The list of these compositions may be secured from the Community service office.

The winners in the Glendale district will be awarded medals for their excellence. They will then be eligible for entrance in the final competition in Los Angeles later in the spring, when winners from all districts will meet to determine the winners for the Eisteddfod organization.

Material for other departments is being prepared rapidly and it will be announced within a short time, so that contestants may start work on the selections.

School Trustees Meet Tonight at Broadway

The Glendale Union High school Board of Trustees will meet tonight at the Broadway High school, President Albert D. Pearce presiding.

AT RESEARCH HOSPITAL

Ed M. Lee of 524 North Belmont avenue underwent an operation this morning for the removal of his tonsils at the Glendale Research hospital.

MASONS OF ATWATER TO ORGANIZE LODGE

Meeting Called For Tonight To Plan
Steps Towards Securing Charter;
Art Exhibit Attracts Many

Every Master Mason in the Atwater district is expected to attend a meeting at the office of Arthur M. Gilman, 3218 Glendale boulevard, tonight, when first steps in the formation of a Masonic lodge will be taken. Plans for an Atwater lodge have been worked out by J. E. Noble, 3343 Madera avenue. All Masons, regardless of their present home lodge, have been urged to attend the session.

"If a sufficient number can be interested, and it is virtually assured there will be, we will proceed with organization of the lodge at once and apply for a charter from the national body," Mr. Noble said.

Art Exhibit Attracts

Large crowds viewed the Elson art exhibit, placed on display yesterday at the Atwater school on Atwater avenue. The exhibit, consisting of fine paintings, reproductions from many of the best works of noted artists of all nations, will be shown at the school for three days. In connection with the affair, entertainment programs are given each evening. The exhibit is under the auspices of the Atwater Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. E. V. Bacon president.

Millinery Class Meets

The Millinery class of the Atwater district, which holds meetings from 1 to 5 o'clock every Wednesday afternoon, at the Atwater school, had a large attendance yesterday, twenty-five having registered. Mrs. Jeffries, instructor, is teaching the designing of hats and also the art of making flowers.

Apartment Furnishings Vanish With Tenants

Mrs. J. C. Wyatt of 4710 Eagle Rock boulevard, Los Angeles, reported today her apartment at 323 South Glendale avenue was robbed of its furnishings some time since the first of the year. She rented the apartment to parties named Smith, she told Glendale police, and, on investigating yesterday, found the premises vacated and silverware, bedding, linen and rugs gone.

Harold Stanton of 5336 Huntington drive, Los Angeles, reported the theft of an overcoat from his car yesterday afternoon, while it was parked near Brand boulevard and Harvard street. C. D. Gulick of 606 East Elk avenue reported his car stolen.

William Backa and Mike Curan were arrested last night on suspicion of burglary, and are being held at police headquarters for investigation. Vernon Alm of 1159 Melrose street is being held for the Gardena police, on a warrant issued by Justice J. S. Crandall of that city. W. W. Brown of Pasadena was arrested last night at Glendale avenue and Broadway, charged with driving while intoxicated. The complaint was sworn out by Walter Hayden of 211 South Kenilworth avenue. Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer, made the examination. Brown will appear today before Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court.

The case of Henry Karowski, charged with burglary, has been postponed until 2 o'clock p. m., February 2. He is held in the Los Angeles county jail.

SCHOOL ELECTION FEATURED TODAY

Glendale Union High Casts
Semi-Annual Ballots
For Officers

Politics reign supreme today at the Glendale Union High school, the semi-annual elections, the most important "political event" of the semester, being held for the selection of a host of candidates to represent the school in various capacities. The students cast their ballots between 12 and 1 o'clock.

The all-important position to be filled by the election is that of student body president. Dick Ryan, fighting captain of the Glendale football team; Ellsworth de Paron, football player and former Boys' league president; Mary Jo Phillips, former editor of the Explosion and Girls' league president; and Jack Finch, present editor of the Explosion, are up for the position.

Another important position, that of secretary of publications, or editor of the Explosion, will be contested for by Ross Russell, Walton Andrews, and Dewey McCourt.

Girls Prominent
Irene Gieb and Helen Ashby have been nominated by the commercial department for secretary of state. Janice Fletcher and Helen Hone are the two candidates for secretary of finance. Bud Elliott and Elmer Muff seek the office of secretary of boys' athletics. Read Stearnman is the only candidate up for secretary of assemblies. Bonnie Jean Lockwood and Marie Greig are up for secretary of assemblies.

The following are the candidates for the Girls' league offices: President, Betty Mabery and Helen Anderson; chairman of board of uniform dress, Marian Hill and Alice Hill; secretary of girls' athletics, Hazel Owens, Ronza Staub, and Dorothy Cramer. Art Cornelius, Wally Trau, and Danny Berman are out for the yell leader positions and are all good in the arm-waving line. All have had experience to some degree in this last season's many football games. Danny Berman has been taking lessons from Hank McCann, Trojan cheer leader.

Gateway Theatre Has Denny's Late Picture

Reginald Denny and Laura La Plante make a combination irresistible in pictures. Ever since "Sporting Youth" threw the two stars together the public has been clamoring to see them again, and "The Fast Worker," at the Gateway theatre today, and running Friday and Saturday, marks their second co-starring vehicle.

Reginald Denny won his first screen fame in "The Leather Pushers," in which he enacted "Kid Roberts" in H. C. Witwer's ring classic. Then he starred in "The Abyssal Brute," Jack Lon-don's famous story, and followed that with several big features, including "Sporting Youth" and "The Reckless Age," each adapted from well-known novels.

"The Fast Worker" is an adaptation of George Barr McCutcheon's "The Husbands of Edith," and the supporting cast includes Ethel Grady, John Stepping, Lee Moran, Margaret Campbell, Betty Morrissey, Carlissa Selwynne and Muriel Frances Dana.

Employees of Seelig Stores Banquet Guests

Employees of Sam Seelig store in Glendale were among the 1600 employees and families of the Seelig company entertained last night at the annual banquet at the company's warehouse, Alameda and Vernon, Los Angeles. The entire warehouse will be thrown open again tonight to Seelig's army of workers, the majority of whom are stockholders in the company. The company's own orchestra and glee club will entertain.

Including the bi-weekly bonus, which the company's employees have been paid during 1924 and the bonus distributed at the banquet, a total of $70,000 will have been given out for efficient management during the year just ended.

A COUGH REMEDY WITHOUT OPiates

Many cough preparations contain some one or more harmful drugs which are added to take the place of opiates. None of these narcotic substitutes have ever been used in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND. The name of every ingredient is plainly printed on every carton. You know what you are taking when you take Foley's. It clings to the throat. Good for old and young. You have a cough, why not try it. Refuse substitutes.
